

SOVIET TRIBUNAL ORDERS FIVE ENGINEERS PUT TO DEATH FOR CAPITALISTIC PLOTTING

TOXIC SUBSTANCES HELD RESPONSIBLE FOR DEADLY MIST

Scientists Agree Fog Not Alone Responsible for Epidemic of Death in Belgium.

POISON GAS THEORY THROWN IN DISCARD

Queen Elizabeth Visits
Stricken Area as Danger Passes When Lethal Fog Lifts.

BRUSSELS, Dec. 7.—(UP)—Scientists from the universities of Brussels and Liege, groping for a solution to the mysterious deaths in the fog-blanketed Meuse valley, agreed today that "toxic substances" held in the mists were at least partly responsible for the fatalities.

The professors, including experts from Queen Elizabeth's scientific foundation, accompanied the queen into the Meuse valley on a brief tour of the stricken zone today. The fog had lifted, and the death danger was believed passed.

They agreed that the fog might have caused the epidemic of deaths, but they also agreed that not the fog alone caused death but the presence of toxic substances which it held. On their recommendation, adequate measures will be taken to combat these "toxic substances."

Death Total 63.

The latest death occurred at Jemeppe, bringing the total to 63.

Many persons in the neighborhood of the zinc factories in the stricken zone today experienced burning throats. The fog had hung most heavily near the factories. Bricklayers at Flenalle Haute, one of the towns affected, on Friday were obliged to quit work. They drank quantities of lemon water to ease their burning throats.

The people in the Meuse valley were less frightened today, but determined in the event of a recurrence of the fog in such density to abandon their low-lying houses and retreat to the hillsides.

The majority of the people feel that the fog was the cause of the deaths, but that most of them were chiefly due to factory gases held by the fog. They pointed out that even the strongest adults and children were affected by the fog blight.

Gas Theory Abandoned.

Early theories that poison gas was coming from the dank ground had caused the deaths were abandoned generally by government engineers investigating the catastrophe. However, they were investigating the zinc and other factories in the locality on the theory that fumes from them might have been held to earth by the fog blanket, asphyxiating the victims.

It was pointed out in denying the poison gas theory that the Meuse valley at this point was held by the Germans from the beginning of the war in 1914, and that gas was not used until a year or so later.

Post-mortems under the direction of ministry of health officials were conducted over the week-end. The announcements were expected Monday.

Physicians took the brain and a sample of blood from one of the fog victims for analysis. She said the study of the causes of the deaths and remedies in future similar occurrences will take a month, scientists said. The public prosecutor appointed two Liege University professors to undertake the inquiry.

Sufferers at Engie, center of the stricken zone, told the United Press of their sufferings. They said their throats suddenly dried up and then began to burn. Many were ill during the night, despite the fact doors and windows were closed. Even children were sick, although not seriously. Most of the dead were persons of 60 or over.

Some already were suffering from heart and lung diseases. It was estimated that between 200 and 300 persons were ill as a result of the fog.

Queen Elizabeth, of Belgium, hurried to the stricken zone today.

Continued in Column 8, Page 4.

Continued in Column 8, Page 4.

"Now, I'm telling you folks!"

Although Smitty (just the office boy) has had many hard knocks he's an unusually optimistic little fellow.

Let him lose his job—well, he'll look for another tomorrow. "Meantime," says he, "let's go swimmin'."

He's a great kid! Be sure to read

SMITTY
By Walter Berndt

Grace Moore Should Sing Well After This PINEHURST, N. C., Dec. 7.—

(P)—Miss Grace Moore, who sings in opera and acts in the movies, holed out on the 10th green here today and remarked that she was tired of golfing.

"Let's play just one more hole," her partner, Ted Turner, of North Adams, Mass., suggested.

Miss Moore agreed, took her stance, and smacked the ball.

It landed right in the cup, 132 yards away, for the first hole in one made here this season by a woman.

BODY BELIEVED ASYLUM ESCAPEE

Clothing Found With Skeleton May Lead to Positive Identification.

GRAY, Ga., Dec. 7.—(P)—Officers of Jones and Baldwin counties tonight said an investigation they had made convinced them the skeleton found yesterday in Jones county is that of William M. (Billy) Rowe, 38, of Greenville, Ga.

Dr. Edward Allen, of Allen's sanitarium, came here this morning with officers from that county and, accompanied by Jones county officers, went to the place where the skeleton was found.

Dr. Allen identified the hat found at the scene as that belonging to a guard at the sanitarium, from whom Rowe escaped on August 31.

Dr. Allen stated that the clothing that covered the bones appeared to be that of a man who had been in the institution. However, Dr. Allen said that it was not state positively that it was Rowe until he has communicated with Rowe's sister, Mrs. E. H. Jenkins, at Greenville, Ga. She has Rowe's coat, which matched the trousers that he wore when he disappeared, he said, and would be able to make other identification.

On the day of his escape Rowe is said to have pushed a guard down so hard that he was stunned. Then grasping the guard's hat Rowe fled to the swamps.

Three days later people residing near James G. Jones county reported that they had seen a strange acting man. When they approached him he ran. Three similar reports on different days were made.

Nothing has been heard of Rowe since his escape, Dr. Allen stated, further than the report of the strange man in Jones county.

Officers of Jones county today said they believed that Rowe hung himself with his belt. The belt was found hanging from a cypress tree above the bones yesterday. Dr. Allen stated that Rowe had tried to kill himself on two occasions at the sanitarium and was closely watched.

COAT MAY HELP ESTABLISH
POSITIVE IDENTIFICATION

GREENVILLE, Ga., Dec. 7.—(P)—Mrs. E. H. Jenkins told officers today that she had a telephone conversation with Dr. Edward Allen, Milledgeville, had established her belief the skeleton found in Jones county yesterday is that of her brother, Billy Rowe.

Mrs. Jenkins said that she and other family members would drive to Gray tomorrow morning, carrying Rowe's coat with them, to establish positive identification. She said the study of the causes of the deaths and remedies in future similar occurrences will take a month, scientists said. The public prosecutor appointed two Liege University professors to undertake the inquiry.

Sufferers at Engie, center of the stricken zone, told the United Press of their sufferings. They said their throats suddenly dried up and then began to burn. Many were ill during the night, despite the fact doors and windows were closed. Even children were sick, although not seriously. Most of the dead were persons of 60 or over.

Some already were suffering from heart and lung diseases. It was estimated that between 200 and 300 persons were ill as a result of the fog.

Queen Elizabeth, of Belgium, hurried to the stricken zone today.

Continued in Column 8, Page 4.

Continued in Column 8, Page 4.

Continued in Column 8, Page 4.

Continued in Column 8, Page 4.

RELIEF MEASURES GET RIGHT OF WAY IN BOTH HOUSES

Controversial Measures Expected To Be Held Up Until Pressing Bills
Pass.

BY HERBERT LITTLE.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—(UP)—Preliminary skirmishes have cleared the way for expected final enactment of relief legislation before Christmas. A farm loan authorization bill is expected to pass in the senate tomorrow and may get through the house before the end of the week. The money will not be available to the farm board to loan until a second bill, formally ordering the treasury to pay, is enacted, however.

The house appropriations committee will bring before the house President Hoover's special emergency public works appropriation proposal, carrying $110,000,000 instead of the proposed $150,000,000 probably Wednesday. It may be passed before the end of the week and sent to the senate for concurrence. This money will be available to a cabinet committee, under the present plan, as soon as this one bill is signed by the president.

House Is Economical.

Although fights on both proposals have already started and will continue, there is little doubt that the measures will be hurried through with possible slight changes.

The conflict in the senate when the farm loan bill is brought up tomorrow, will be between the $25,000,000 proposed by Secretary of Agriculture Hyde as sufficient, and the $60,000,000 proposed by senate democrats and administration men as well. The house, which pays more attention than the senate to cabinet officers, may slash the amount and a compromise carrying about $45,000,000 now appears the most likely result.

Senator Charles L. McNary, republican, Oregon, an administration man and chairman of the agriculture committee, which unanimously voted for the $25,000,000 bill, tomorrow will be placed in the unique position of opposing a member of Mr. Hoover's cabinet on the floor.

Meanwhile the house will receive from its appropriations committee the interior department supply bill which will be taken up immediately tomorrow for quick passage. No effort is being wasted by the house in the effort to rush the supply bills through in order to prevent possible delays in the filibusters which may lead to a special session.

Extra Session Not Dead.

But the threat of a special session is still present. The senate is now four measures favored by the western democrats and independent republicans has not moved forward a single legislative step in the last week of the session. Another controversial extra-session possibility, the World Court, which Mr. Hoover announced he would send to the senate this week, has not yet reached the halls of congress, and there are some who believe he may hold the measure up to avoid bitter discussions which might ensue much valuable time early in the session.

Democrats and republicans have in their words already disrupted the "harmony" co-operation growing out of the democratic post-election pledge against obstruction, particularly in differences over the administration relief proposals. It remains to be seen, however, whether harmony will continue when the roll calls start resounding through those marble halls.

But the irregular western republicans, headed by Senator George W. Norris, Nebraska, and William E. Borah, Idaho, do not feel themselves bound by the democratic and White House pledges. It is extremely likely they will be heard from if action is not commenced on their program.

The conference on the deadlocked Norris-Shoals bill, one of the four Norris program measures, will meet mid-week. They have virtually decided to disagree, which will give the administration a chance to vote on deciding from the private-lease bill and approving the senate's government-operation bill concerning the giant Alabama power plant.

Norris has given notice that he will bring the anti-injunction bill re-

Continued in Column 5, Page 4.

Continued in Column 5, Page 4.

Continued in Column 5, Page 4.

Continued in Column 5, Page 4.

Continued in Column 5, Page 4.

Lindsey Is Thrown Out of Cathedral

Irate Churchgoers Eject Former Jurist When He Attempts To Answer
Bishop's Attack.

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—(P)—A little man from Denver, the former Judge Ben B. Lindsey, turned Golden Rule Sunday into a pandemonium of epithets, recrimination and violence today at Bishop William T. Manning's church—the fashionable Cathedral of St. John the Divine.

Lindsey, with one friend at his side, sat tense among the 3,500 well-groomed worshippers and heard himself scored as the author of a book "the most filthy, insidious and cleverly written piece of propaganda ever published in behalf of lawlessness, promiscuity, adultery and unrestrained sexual gratification."

The bishop, coldly calm, brought his sermon to an end with a denunciation of "a man who stands openly for legalized free love under cover of the term 'companionate marriage.'"

He turned his back to the congregation and bowed his head in prayer.

The Denver champion of companionate marriage strode forward and leaped upon a table just below the pulpit in which the bishop still entoned the ascription.

"Bishop Manning!" he cried, his voice electrifying the thousands who had been listening to the bishop's exhortation. "You have falsely represented me! If this is not a house of justice, it is not a house of God! In justice I ask for five minutes to answer your unfair attack!"

The prayer of the bishop of the diocese of New York was drowned by the voice of the former children's court judge of Denver. The bishop remained with his back to the pews.

Two ushers sprang forward, pulling Lindsey from the table. The cathedral, one of the most famous churches of the world, buzzed with the voices of richly dressed women and men in morning dress.

A hundred or more men and women arose in their seats, pushed into the aisle and rushed forward.

A man's voice cried: "Punch him!"

Another man struck Lindsey over the head.

Profanity was heard. The aisle leading toward the press table at which Lindsey had been sitting and on which he had leaped, filled with pushing, excited worshippers.

Everyone seemed to have forgotten that the church was in prayer; everyone save Bishop Manning who, his back still to his congregation, continued his petition for divine blessing.

The words of prayer were drowned in the hubbub, above which arose the voice of Lindsey, crying: "He lied about me. He had no right to lie about me! This is no house of justice! This is no house of God!"

No voice was raised to silence the uproar. The bishop himself remained seated, where he was, until the words of prayer were over—well, he said, he was surprised that the press table at which Lindsey had been sitting and on which he had leaped, filled with pushing, excited worshippers.

Everyone seemed to have forgotten that the church was in prayer; everyone save Bishop Manning who, his back still to his congregation, continued his petition for divine blessing.

The words of prayer were drowned in the hubbub, above which arose the voice of Lindsey, crying: "He lied about me. He had no right to lie about me! This is no house of justice! This is no house of God!"

No voice was raised to silence the uproar. The bishop himself remained seated, where he was, until the words of prayer were over—well, he said, he was surprised that the press table at which Lindsey had been sitting and on which he had leaped, filled with pushing, excited worshippers.

Everyone seemed to have forgotten that the church was in prayer; everyone save Bishop Manning who, his back still to his congregation, continued his petition for divine blessing.

The words of prayer were drowned in the hubbub, above which arose the voice of Lindsey, crying: "He lied about me. He had no right to lie about me! This is no house of justice! This is no house of God!"

No voice was raised to silence the uproar. The bishop himself remained seated, where he was, until the words of prayer were over—well, he said, he was surprised that the press table at which Lindsey had been sitting and on which he had leaped, filled with pushing, excited worshippers.

Everyone seemed to have forgotten that the church was in prayer; everyone save Bishop Manning who, his back still to his congregation, continued his petition for divine blessing.

The words of prayer were drowned in the hubbub, above which arose the voice of Lindsey, crying: "He lied about me. He had no right to lie about me! This is no house of justice! This is no house of God!"

No voice was raised to silence the uproar. The bishop himself remained seated, where he was, until the words of prayer were over—well, he said, he was surprised that the press table at which Lindsey had been sitting and on which he had leaped, filled with pushing, excited worshippers.

Everyone seemed to have forgotten that the church was in prayer; everyone save Bishop Manning who, his back still to his congregation, continued his petition for divine blessing.

The words of prayer were drowned in the hubbub, above which arose the voice of Lindsey, crying: "He lied about me. He had no right to lie about me! This is no house of justice! This is no house of God!"

No voice was raised to silence the uproar. The bishop himself remained seated, where he was, until the words of prayer were over—well, he said, he was surprised that the press table at which Lindsey had been sitting and on which he had leaped, filled with pushing, excited worshippers.

Everyone seemed to have forgotten that the church was in prayer; everyone save Bishop Manning who, his back still to his congregation, continued his petition for divine blessing.

The words of prayer were drowned in the hubbub, above which arose the voice of Lindsey, crying: "He lied about me. He had no right to lie about me! This is no house of justice! This is no house of God!"

No voice was raised to silence the uproar. The bishop himself remained seated, where he was, until the words of prayer were over—well, he said, he was surprised that the press table at which Lindsey had been sitting and on which he had leaped, filled with pushing, excited worshippers.

Everyone seemed to have forgotten that the church was in prayer; everyone save Bishop Manning who, his back still to his congregation, continued his petition for divine blessing.

The words of prayer were drowned in the hubbub, above which arose the voice of Lindsey, crying: "He lied about me. He had no right to lie about me! This is no house of justice! This is no house of God!"

No voice was raised to silence the uproar. The bishop himself remained seated, where he was, until the words of prayer were over—well, he said, he was surprised that the press table at which Lindsey had been sitting and on which he had leaped, filled with pushing, excited worshippers.

Everyone seemed to have forgotten that the church was in prayer; everyone save Bishop Manning who, his back still to his congregation, continued his petition for divine blessing.

The words of prayer were drowned in the hubbub, above which arose the voice of Lindsey, crying: "He lied about me. He had no right to lie about me! This is no house of justice! This is no house of God!"

No voice was raised to silence the uproar. The bishop himself remained seated, where he was, until the words of prayer were over—well, he said, he was surprised that the press table at which Lindsey had been sitting and on which he had leaped, filled with pushing, excited worshippers.

Everyone seemed to have forgotten that the church was in prayer; everyone save Bishop Manning who, his back still to his congregation, continued his petition for divine blessing.

The words of prayer were drowned in the hubbub, above which arose the voice of Lindsey, crying: "He lied about me. He had no right to lie about me! This is no house of justice! This is no house of God!"

No voice was raised to silence the uproar. The bishop himself remained seated, where he was, until the words of prayer were over—well, he said, he was surprised that the press table at which Lindsey had been sitting and on which he had leaped, filled with pushing, excited worshippers.

Everyone seemed to have forgotten that the church was in prayer; everyone save Bishop Manning who, his back still to his congregation, continued his petition for divine blessing.

The words of prayer were drowned in the hubbub, above which arose the voice of Lindsey, crying: "He lied about me. He had no right to lie about me! This is no house of justice! This is no house of God!"

No voice was raised to silence the uproar. The bishop himself remained seated, where he was, until the words of prayer were over—well, he said, he was surprised that the press table at which Lindsey had been sitting and on which he had leaped, filled with pushing, excited worshippers.

Everyone seemed to have forgotten that the church was in prayer; everyone save Bishop Manning who, his back still to his congregation, continued his petition for divine blessing.

The words of prayer were drowned in the hubbub, above which arose the voice of Lindsey, crying: "He lied about me. He had no right to lie about me! This is no house of justice! This is no house of God!"

No voice was raised to silence the uproar. The bishop himself remained seated, where he was, until the words of prayer were over—well, he said, he was surprised that the press table at which Lindsey had been sitting and on which he had leaped, filled with pushing, excited worshippers.

Everyone seemed to have forgotten that the church was in prayer; everyone save Bishop Manning who, his back still to his congregation, continued his petition for divine blessing.

The words of prayer were drowned in the hubbub, above which arose the voice of Lindsey, crying: "He lied about me. He had no right to lie about me! This is no house of justice! This is no house of God!"

No voice was raised to silence the uproar. The bishop himself remained seated, where he was, until the words of prayer were over—well, he said, he was surprised that the press table at which Lindsey had been sitting and on which he had leaped, filled with pushing, excited worshippers.

Everyone seemed to have forgotten that the church was in prayer; everyone save Bishop Manning who, his back still to his congregation, continued his petition for divine blessing.

The words of prayer were drowned in the hubbub, above which arose the voice of Lindsey, crying: "He lied about me. He had no right to lie about me! This is no house of justice! This is no house of God!"

No voice was raised to silence the uproar. The bishop himself remained seated, where he was, until the words of prayer were over—well, he said, he was surprised that the press table at which Lindsey had been sitting and on which he had leaped, filled with pushing, excited worshippers.

Everyone seemed to have forgotten that the church was in prayer; everyone save Bishop Manning who, his back still to his congregation, continued his petition for divine blessing.

The words of prayer were drowned in the hubbub, above which arose the voice of Lindsey, crying: "He lied about me. He had no right to lie about me! This is no house of justice! This is no house of God!"

No voice was raised to silence the uproar. The bishop himself remained seated, where he was, until the words of prayer were over—well, he said, he was surprised that the press table at which Lindsey had been sitting and on which he had leaped, filled with pushing, excited worshippers.

Everyone seemed to have forgotten that the church was in prayer; everyone save Bishop Manning who, his back still to his congregation, continued his petition for divine blessing.

The words of prayer were drowned in the hubbub, above which arose the voice of Lindsey, crying: "He lied about me. He had no right to lie about me! This is no house of justice! This is no house of God!"

No voice was raised to silence the uproar. The bishop himself remained seated, where he was, until the words of prayer were over—well, he said, he was surprised that the press table at which Lindsey had been sitting and on which he had leaped, filled with pushing, excited worshippers.

Everyone seemed to have forgotten that the church was in prayer; everyone save Bishop Manning who, his back still to his congregation, continued his petition for divine blessing.

The words of prayer were drowned in the hubbub, above which arose the voice of Lindsey, crying: "He lied about me. He had no right to lie about me! This is no house of justice! This is no house of God!"

No voice was raised to silence the uproar. The bishop himself remained seated, where he was, until the words of prayer were over—well, he said, he was surprised that the press table at which Lindsey had been sitting and on which he had leaped, filled with pushing, excited worshippers.

Everyone seemed to have forgotten that the church was in prayer; everyone save Bishop Manning who, his back still to his congregation, continued his petition for divine blessing.

The words of prayer were drowned in the hubbub, above which arose the voice of Lindsey, crying: "He lied about me. He had no right to lie about me! This is no house of justice! This is no house of God!"

No voice was raised to silence the uproar. The bishop himself remained seated, where he was, until the words of prayer were over—well, he said, he was surprised that the press table at which Lindsey had been sitting and on which he had leaped, filled with pushing, excited worshippers.

Everyone seemed to have forgotten that the church was in prayer; everyone save Bishop Manning who, his back still to his congregation, continued his petition for divine blessing.

The words of prayer were drowned in the hubbub, above which arose the voice of Lindsey, crying: "He lied about me. He had no right to lie about me! This is no house of justice! This is no house of God!"

No voice was raised to silence the uproar. The bishop himself remained seated, where he was, until the words of prayer were over—well, he said, he was surprised that the press table at which Lindsey had been sitting and on which he had leaped, filled with pushing, excited worshippers.

Everyone seemed to have forgotten that the church was in prayer; everyone save Bishop Manning who, his back still to his congregation, continued his petition for divine blessing.

The words of prayer were drowned in the hubbub, above which arose the voice of Lindsey, crying: "He lied about me. He had no right to lie about me! This is no house of justice! This is no house of God!"

No voice was raised to silence the uproar. The bishop himself remained seated, where he was, until the words of prayer were over—well, he said, he was surprised that the press table at which Lindsey had been sitting and on which he had leaped, filled with pushing, excited worshippers.

Everyone seemed to have forgotten that the church was in prayer; everyone save Bishop Manning who, his back still to his congregation, continued his petition for divine blessing.

The words of prayer were drowned in the hubbub, above which arose the voice of Lindsey, crying: "He lied about me. He had no right to lie about me! This is no house of justice! This is no house of God!"

No voice was raised to silence the uproar. The bishop himself remained seated, where he was, until the words of prayer were over—well, he said, he was surprised that the press table at which Lindsey had been sitting and on which he had leaped, filled with pushing, excited worshippers.

Everyone seemed to have forgotten that the church was in prayer; everyone save Bishop Manning who, his back still to his congregation, continued his petition for divine blessing.

The words of prayer were drowned in the hubbub, above which arose the voice of Lindsey, crying: "He lied about me. He had no right to lie about me! This is no house of justice! This is no house of God!"

No voice was raised to silence the uproar. The bishop himself remained seated, where he was, until the words of prayer were over—well, he said, he was surprised that the press table at which Lindsey had been sitting and on which he had leaped, filled with pushing, excited worshippers.

Everyone seemed to have forgotten that the church was in prayer; everyone save Bishop Manning who, his back still to his congregation, continued his petition for divine blessing.

The words of prayer were drowned in the hubbub, above which arose the voice of Lindsey, crying: "He lied about me. He had no right to lie about me! This is no house of justice! This is no house of God!"

No voice was raised to silence the uproar. The bishop himself remained seated, where he was, until the words of prayer were over—well, he said, he was surprised that the press table at which Lindsey had been sitting and on which he had leaped, filled with pushing, excited worshippers.

Everyone seemed to have forgotten that the church was in prayer; everyone save Bishop Manning who, his back still to his congregation, continued his petition for divine blessing.

The words of prayer were drowned in the hubbub, above which arose the voice of Lindsey, crying: "He lied about me. He had no right to lie about me! This is no house of justice! This is no house of God!"

No voice was raised to silence the uproar. The bishop himself remained seated, where he was, until the words of prayer were over—well, he said, he was surprised that the press table at which Lindsey had been sitting and on which he had leaped, filled with pushing, excited worshippers.

Everyone seemed to have forgotten that the church was in prayer; everyone save Bishop Manning who, his back still to his congregation, continued his petition for divine blessing.

The words of prayer were drowned in the hubbub, above which arose the voice of Lindsey, crying: "He lied about me. He had no right to lie about me! This is no house of justice! This is no house of God!"

No voice was raised to silence the uproar. The bishop himself remained seated, where he was, until the words of prayer were over—well, he said, he was surprised that the press table at which Lindsey had been sitting and on which he had leaped, filled with pushing, excited worshippers.

Everyone seemed to have forgotten that the church was in prayer; everyone save Bishop Manning who, his back still to his congregation, continued his petition for divine blessing.

The words of prayer were drowned in the hubbub, above which arose the voice of Lindsey, crying: "He lied about me. He had no right to lie about me! This is no house of justice! This is no house of God!"

No voice was raised to silence the uproar. The bishop himself remained seated, where he was, until the words of prayer were over—well, he said, he was surprised that the press table at which Lindsey had been sitting and on which he had leaped, filled with pushing, excited worshippers.

Everyone seemed to have forgotten that the church was in prayer; everyone save Bishop Manning who, his back still to his congregation, continued his petition for divine blessing.

The words of prayer were drowned in the hubbub, above which arose the voice of Lindsey, crying: "He lied about me. He had no right to lie about me! This is no house of justice! This is no house of God!"

No voice was raised to silence the uproar. The bishop himself remained seated, where he was, until the words of prayer were over—well, he said, he was surprised that the press table at which Lindsey had been sitting and on which he had leaped, filled with pushing, excited worshippers.

Everyone seemed to have forgotten that the church was in prayer; everyone save Bishop Manning who, his back still to his congregation, continued his petition for divine blessing.

The words of prayer were drowned in the hubbub, above which arose the voice of Lindsey, crying: "He lied about me. He had no right to lie about me! This is no house of justice! This is no house of God!"

No voice was raised to silence the uproar. The bishop himself remained seated, where he was, until the words of prayer were over—well, he said, he was surprised that the press table at which Lindsey had been sitting and on which he had leaped, filled with pushing, excited worshippers.

Everyone seemed to have forgotten that the church was in prayer; everyone save Bishop Manning who, his back still to his congregation, continued his petition for divine blessing.

The words of prayer were drowned in the hubbub, above which arose the voice of Lindsey, crying: "He lied about me. He had no right to lie about me! This is no house of justice! This is no house of God!"

No voice was raised to silence the uproar. The bishop himself remained seated, where he was, until the words of prayer were over—well, he said, he was surprised that the press table at which Lindsey had been sitting and on which he had leaped, filled with pushing, excited worshippers.

Everyone seemed to have forgotten that the church was in prayer; everyone save Bishop Manning who, his back still to his congregation, continued his petition for divine blessing.

The words of prayer were drowned in the hubbub, above which arose the voice of Lindsey, crying: "He lied about me. He had no right to lie about me! This is no house of justice! This is no house of God!"

No voice was raised to silence the uproar. The bishop himself remained seated, where he was, until the words of prayer were over—well, he said, he was surprised that the press table at which Lindsey had been sitting and on which he had leaped, filled with pushing, excited worshippers.

Everyone seemed to have forgotten that the church was in prayer; everyone save Bishop Manning who, his back still to his congregation, continued his petition for divine blessing.

The words of prayer were drowned in the hubbub, above which arose the voice of Lindsey, crying: "He lied about me. He had no right to lie about me! This is no house of justice! This is no house of God!"

No voice was raised to silence the uproar. The bishop himself remained seated, where he was, until the words of prayer were over—well, he said, he was surprised that the press table at which Lindsey had been sitting and on which he had leaped, filled with pushing, excited worshippers.

Everyone seemed to have forgotten that the church was in prayer; everyone save Bishop Manning who, his back still to his congregation, continued his petition for divine blessing.

The words of prayer were drowned in the hubbub, above which arose the voice of Lindsey, crying: "He lied about me. He had no right to lie about me! This is no house of justice! This is no house of God!"

No voice was raised to silence the uproar. The bishop himself remained seated, where he was, until the words of prayer were over—well, he said, he was surprised that the press table at which Lindsey had been sitting and on which he had leaped, filled with pushing, excited worshippers.

Everyone seemed to have forgotten that the church was in prayer; everyone save Bishop Manning who, his back still to his congregation, continued his petition for divine blessing.

The words of prayer were drowned in the hubbub, above which arose the voice of Lindsey, crying: "He lied about me. He had no right to lie about me! This is no house of justice! This is no house of God!"

No voice was raised to silence the uproar. The bishop himself remained seated, where he was, until the words of prayer were over—well, he said, he was surprised that the press table at which Lindsey had been sitting and on which he had leaped, filled with pushing, excited worshippers.

Everyone seemed to have forgotten that the church was in prayer; everyone save Bishop Manning who, his back still to his congregation, continued his petition for divine blessing.

The words of prayer were drowned in the hubbub, above which arose the voice of Lindsey, crying: "He lied about me. He had no right to lie about me! This is no house of justice! This is no house of God!"

No voice was raised to silence the uproar. The bishop himself remained seated, where he was, until the words of prayer were over—well, he said, he was surprised that the press table at which Lindsey had been sitting and on which he had leaped, filled with pushing, excited worshippers.

Everyone seemed to have forgotten that the church was in prayer; everyone save Bishop Manning who, his back still to his congregation, continued his petition for divine blessing.

The words of prayer were drowned in the hubbub, above which arose the voice of Lindsey, crying: "He lied about me. He had no right to lie about me! This is no house of justice! This is no house of God!"

No voice was raised to silence the uproar. The bishop himself remained seated, where he was, until the words of prayer were over—well, he said, he was surprised that the press table at which Lindsey had been sitting and on which he had leaped, filled with pushing, excited worshippers.

Everyone seemed to have forgotten that the church was in prayer; everyone save Bishop Manning who, his back still to his congregation, continued his petition for divine blessing.

The words of prayer were drowned in the hubbub, above which arose the voice of Lindsey, crying: "He lied about me. He had no right to lie about me! This is no house of justice! This is no house of God!"

No voice was raised to silence the uproar. The bishop himself remained seated, where he was, until the words of prayer were over—well, he said, he was surprised that the press table at which Lindsey had been sitting and on which he had leaped, filled with pushing, excited worshippers.

Everyone seemed to have forgotten that the church was in prayer; everyone save Bishop Manning who, his back still to his congregation, continued his petition for divine blessing.

The words of prayer were drowned in the hubbub, above which arose the voice of Lindsey, crying: "He lied about me. He had no right to lie about me! This is no house of justice! This is no house of God!"

No voice was raised to silence the uproar. The bishop himself remained seated, where he was, until the words of prayer were over—well, he said, he was surprised that the press table at which Lindsey had been sitting and on which he had leaped, filled with pushing, excited worshippers.

Everyone seemed to have forgotten that the church was in prayer; everyone save Bishop Manning who, his back still to his congregation, continued his petition for divine blessing.

The words of prayer were drowned in the hubbub, above which arose the voice of Lindsey, crying: "He lied about me. He had no right to lie about me! This is no house of justice! This is no house of God!"

No voice was raised to silence the uproar. The bishop himself remained seated, where he was, until the words of prayer were over—well, he said, he was surprised that the press table at which Lindsey had been sitting and on which he had leaped, filled with pushing, excited worshippers.

Everyone seemed to have forgotten that the church was in prayer; everyone save Bishop Manning who, his back still to his congregation, continued his petition for divine blessing.

The words of prayer were drowned in the hubbub, above which arose the voice of Lindsey, crying: "He lied about me. He had no right to lie about me! This is no house of justice! This is no house of God!"

No voice was raised to silence the uproar. The bishop himself remained seated, where he was, until the words of prayer were over—well, he said, he was surprised that the press table at which Lindsey had been sitting and on which he had leaped, filled with pushing, excited worshippers.

Everyone seemed to have forgotten that the church was in prayer; everyone save Bishop Manning who, his back still to his congregation, continued his petition for divine blessing.

The words of prayer were drowned in the hubbub, above which arose the voice of Lindsey, crying: "He lied about me. He had no right to lie about me! This is no house of justice! This is no house of God!"

No voice was raised to silence the uproar. The bishop himself remained seated, where he was, until the words of prayer were over—well, he said, he was surprised that the press table at which Lindsey had been sitting and on which he had leaped, filled with pushing, excited worshippers.

Everyone seemed to have forgotten that the church was in prayer; everyone save Bishop Manning who, his back still to his congregation, continued his petition for divine blessing.

The words of prayer were drowned in the hubbub, above which arose the voice of Lindsey, crying: "He lied about me. He had no right to lie about me! This is no house of justice! This is no house of God!"

No voice was raised to silence the uproar. The bishop himself remained seated, where he was, until the words of prayer were over—well, he said, he was surprised that the press table at which Lindsey had been sitting and on which he had leaped, filled with pushing, excited worshippers.

Everyone seemed to have forgotten that the church was in prayer; everyone save Bishop Manning who, his back still to his congregation, continued his petition for divine blessing.

The words of prayer were drowned in the hubbub, above which arose the voice of Lindsey, crying: "He lied about me. He had no right to lie about me! This is no house of justice! This is no house of God!"

No voice was raised to silence the uproar. The bishop himself remained seated, where he was, until the words of prayer were over—well, he said, he was surprised that the press table at which Lindsey had been sitting and on which he had leaped, filled with pushing, excited worshippers.

Everyone seemed to have forgotten that the church was in prayer; everyone save Bishop Manning who, his back still to his congregation, continued his petition for divine blessing.

The words of prayer were drowned in the hubbub, above which arose the voice of Lindsey, crying: "He lied about me. He had no right to lie about me! This is no house of justice! This is no house of God!"

No voice was raised to silence the uproar. The bishop himself remained seated, where he was, until the words of prayer were over—well, he said, he was surprised that the press table at which Lindsey had been sitting and on which he had leaped, filled with pushing, excited worshippers.

Everyone seemed to have forgotten that the church was in prayer; everyone save Bishop Manning who, his back still to his congregation, continued his petition for divine blessing.

The words of prayer were drowned in the hubbub, above which arose the voice of Lindsey, crying: "He lied about me. He had no right to lie about me! This is no house of justice! This is no house of God!"

No voice was raised to silence the uproar. The bishop himself remained seated, where he was, until the words of prayer were over—well, he said, he was surprised that the press table at which Lindsey had been sitting and on which he had leaped, filled with pushing, excited worshippers.

Everyone seemed to have forgotten that the church was in prayer; everyone save Bishop Manning who, his back still to his congregation, continued his petition for divine blessing.

The words of prayer were drowned in the hubbub, above which arose the voice of Lindsey, crying: "He lied about me. He had no right to lie about me! This is no house of justice! This is no house of God!"

No voice was raised to silence the uproar. The bishop himself remained seated, where he was, until the words of prayer were over—well, he said, he was surprised that the press table at which Lindsey had been sitting and on which he had leaped, filled with pushing, excited worshippers.

Everyone seemed to have forgotten that the church was in prayer; everyone save Bishop Manning who, his back still to his congregation, continued his petition for divine blessing.

The words of prayer were drowned in the hubbub, above which arose the voice of Lindsey, crying: "He lied about me. He had no right to lie about me! This is no house of justice! This is no house of God!"

No voice was raised to silence the uproar. The bishop himself remained seated, where he was, until the words of prayer were over—well, he said, he was surprised that the press table at which Lindsey had been sitting and on which he had leaped, filled with pushing, excited worshippers.

Everyone seemed to have forgotten that the church was in prayer; everyone save Bishop Manning who, his back still to his congregation, continued his petition for divine blessing.

The words of prayer were drowned in the hubbub, above which arose the voice of Lindsey, crying: "He lied about me. He had no right to lie about me! This is no house of justice! This is no house of God!"

No voice was raised to silence the uproar. The bishop himself remained seated, where he was, until the words of prayer were over—well, he said, he was surprised that the press table at which Lindsey had been sitting and on which he had leaped, filled with pushing, excited worshippers.

Everyone seemed to have forgotten that the church was in prayer; everyone save Bishop Manning who, his back still to his congregation, continued his petition for divine blessing.

The words of prayer were drowned in the hubbub, above which arose the voice of Lindsey, crying: "He lied about me. He had no right to lie about me! This is no house of justice! This is no house of God!"

No voice was raised to silence the uproar. The bishop himself remained seated, where he was, until the words of prayer were over—well, he said, he was surprised that the press table at which Lindsey had been sitting and on which he had leaped, filled with pushing, excited worshippers.

Everyone seemed to have forgotten that the church was in prayer; everyone save Bishop Manning who, his back still to his congregation, continued his petition for divine blessing.

The words of prayer were drowned in the hubbub, above which arose the voice of Lindsey, crying: "He lied about me. He had no right to lie about me! This is no house of justice! This is no house of God!"

No voice was raised to silence the uproar. The bishop himself remained seated, where he was, until the words of prayer were over—well, he said, he was surprised that the press table at which Lindsey had been sitting and on which he had leaped, filled with pushing, excited worshippers.

Everyone seemed to have forgotten that the church was in prayer; everyone save Bishop Manning who, his back still to his congregation, continued his petition for divine blessing.

The words of prayer were drowned in the hubbub, above which arose the voice of Lindsey, crying: "He lied about me. He had no right to lie about me! This is no house of justice! This is no house of God!"

No voice was raised to silence the uproar. The bishop himself remained seated, where he was, until the words of prayer were over—well, he said, he was surprised that the press table at which Lindsey had been sitting and on which he had leaped, filled with pushing, excited worshippers.

Everyone seemed to have forgotten that the church was in prayer; everyone save Bishop Manning who, his back still to his congregation, continued his petition for divine blessing.

The words of prayer were drowned in the hubbub, above which arose the voice of Lindsey, crying: "He lied about me. He had no right to lie about me! This is no house of justice! This is no house of God!"

No voice was raised to silence the uproar.

The PRICE of FOOD TODAY

PERSONAL

Holiday seasons are always open seasons in A&P Stores for the great army of the bargain-hunters. They know that A&P gives them particularly good chances for the foods that are in greatest demand.

It's A&P's policy to reduce rather than to increase prices of what the public most wants—Turkeys soon, for instance.

SPECIAL THIS WEEK

ANN PAGE—PURE FRUIT

PRESERVES

ASSORTED FLAVORS
16-OZ. JAR 19c

Regular Price 25c—Savings 6c

Uneda Bakers—Creamy Sandwich

CAKES POUND 29c
Regular Price 35c—Savings 6c

PRICES SHOWN IN THE FIRST COLUMN ARE IN EFFECT FOR MONDAY AND TUESDAY				Price A Year Ago	Change in Price
New York State
CHEESE	L.B.	33c	35c	-2c
Wisconsin American
CHEESE	L.B.	23c	27c	-4c
New Crop
Pinto Beans	L.B.	6½c	9c	-2½c
Evaporated
APPLES	L.B.	12½c	21c	-7½c
Evaporated
PEACHES	L.B.	12½c	21c	-7½c
Iona
CORN	NO. 2 CAN	12½c	12c	+½c
Sunsweet
PRUNES	2-LB. CARTON	19c	29c	-10c
Alaga
SYRUP	NO. 14 CAN	12½c	13c	-½c
A&P Pure
Grape Jelly	7-OZ. JAR	12½c
A&P Pure
Grape Jelly	16-OZ. JAR	23c

VEGETABLES & FRUIT

Kiln Dried
YAMS	POUND	4½c	4½c	..
Fresh—Crisp
Snap Beans	L.B.	9c	10c	-1c
New Shipment Green
CABBAGE	POUND	4c	6c	-2c
Spanish
ONIONS	POUND	3c	3½c	-½c

AT A & P MARKETS

Swift's Brookfield All-Pork
SAUSAGE	1-LB. CARTON	29c	29c	..
David Berg's
Frankfurters	L.B.	28c	30c	-2c
Fresh—Home-made
Souse Meat	L.B.	25c	30c	-5c
Fancy Beef
Chuck Steak	L.B.	25c	33c	-8c

FRUIT CAKE MATERIAL

DATES—Dromedary, pkg.	21c
DATES—Stuffed, 1-lb. carton	29c
DATES—Pitted, 10-oz. carton	19c
FIGS—White, 3 8-oz. pkgs.	25c
FIGS—Bulk, pound	19c
CURRENTS—A&P, 15-oz. pkg.	17c
CHERRIES—Glaze, pound	55c
CITRON PEEL—Glaze, lb.	45c
LEMON PEEL—Glaze, lb.	35c
PINEAPPLE—Glaze, lb.	45c
MINCEMEAT—Libby's, lb.	27c
MINCEMEAT—Non-such, pkg.	15c
ALMONDS—Nonpareil, lb.	39c
ALMONDS—Shelled, lb.	59c
MIXED NUTS—Pound	23c
WALNUTS—No. 1, lb.	33c
WALNUTS—No. 2, lb.	23c
WALNUTS—Shelled, lb.	79c
BRAZIL NUTS—Pound	25c
PECANS—Pound	39c
PECANS—Shelled, lb.	95c
RAISINS—White, 2 lbs.	25c
RAISINS—Bulk, lb.	29c
RAISINS—Market Day, 2 lbs.	17c
RAISINS—Sunmaid, 2 cartons	25c
RAISINS—Sunmaid, seeded, pkg.	11c
RAISINS—Sunmaid, seedless, pkg.	10c

"OUR DAILY FOOD"

Radio Broadcast Each Morning (Except Sunday) Over
WSB—8:45

ALLEGED CHILD KILLER WOULD ADDRESS JURY

Arguments Begin Today in Trial of Mrs. O'Loughlin at Denver.

DENVER, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Counsel for Mrs. Pearl O'Loughlin said today that she would attempt again to obtain permission for her to address a jury before it deliberates on her alleged guilt in connection with the slaying of her 10-year-old stepdaughter, Leona.

Final arguments in the case are scheduled to begin tomorrow morning. The state had announced it would seek the death penalty, but this move apparently has been nullified by exclusion of an alleged confession reportedly made to police.

Colorado law stipulates that the death sentence can be imposed only when a murder has been witnessed or the slayer has confessed. The maximum penalty in other cases is life imprisonment.

Mrs. O'Loughlin's attorney, John M. Keating, planned to ask the court for permission to allow the defendant to take the stand and address the jury without being subjected to cross-examination. The district attorney said he would resist the attempt.

A similar request was denied Saturday by Judge Henley A. Calvert.

19-YEAR-OLD PRINCESS ENGAGED TO COMTE

BRUSSELS, Dec. 7.—(AP)—The engagement was announced tonight of Prince Henri, Comte de Paris, son of the Duke and Duchess de Guise, to the 19-year-old Princess Isabelle, of Orleans-Braganza, daughter of the Prince and Princess Pierre, of Orleans-Braganza.

The young bride-to-be is a granddaughter of Princess Isabelle, of Braganza, known as the imperial princess of Brazil. Her father, Prince Pierre, was born in Brazil in 1876, but renounced his claim to the Brazilian throne in favor of his brother, Louis.

Three Grandchildren Come to White House

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—(AP)—From across the continent, three little Hoovers, Peggy Ann, Herbert III, and baby Joan, arrived today to occupy their special suites in a White House already filling with Christmas presents and plans.

Brought by their mother, they came prepared to stay, with a trained nurse for Joan and a governess for the older two, with complete wardrobes, plenty of playthings and the special feeding rules that doctors lay down nowadays for growing boys and girls.

For they are to live with their grandparents while their father, Herbert Hoover, Jr., is recovering from illness at Asheville, N. C. Mrs. Hoover, Jr., will return to her husband in Asheville.

Four nights and three days they had been on the train on their journey from southern California. But even baby Joan had a sunny smile for those who welcomed her at the station—the president's wife among them.

AIR TICKET OFFICE WILL OPEN TODAY

Atlanta's rapid growth as an international air center will be advanced when the Airlines ticket office is opened today in the lobby of the new hotel. It will be maintained jointly by all the air transport lines radiating from Atlanta and will serve the traveling public with tickets and with information pertaining to passenger and mail transport.

Lines operating passenger service in and out of Atlanta are Southern Air Express, Inc., division of American Airways, Inc., to Dallas, Los Angeles and intermediate points, and Eastern Air Transport, to New York and intermediate points, starting December 10. On January 1 Eastern Air Transport will begin passenger service from Atlanta to Miami, Florida.

Air mail service for Atlanta includes these lines and also Interstate Airlines, Inc., to Chicago, and Gulf Coast Airways, Inc., to New Orleans. These provide overnight mail service from Atlanta to all principal cities of the north, east and mid-west.

The Airlines Ticket Office will be in charge of Richard Johnston and William S. Drew.

PROHIBITION FORCES GATHER AT CAPITAL

More Militant Program Than Ever Before Reported Planned.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Dry leaders gathered in Washington today for a series of temperance meetings, determined, in the words of one leader, to "face the whole picture" and evolve a unified program of nationwide activity.

Word that the dry forces would attempt, in the next three days, to formulate a program more militant than any since prohibition became a law was given out tonight following a five-hour meeting of the executive committee of the national temperance council.

Meanwhile, members of President Hoover's law enforcement commission returned to their own problem of writing a report on the dry law, following a 12-day recess, while individual wet advocates likewise converged upon the capital to take part in a "national constitutional convention," convening tomorrow for an indefinite period.

Approximately a dozen nationally known dry advocates were present at the meeting of the executive committee of the council this afternoon. A decision was reached among them to bring flatly before their organization the troublesome question of whether there should be a national prohibition referendum.

M'ELVEEN URGES HARMONIOUS LIFE

The Rev. W. T. McElveen, at the morning service of the United Congregational church, said: "There are a number of inconsistencies in human nature. A child may be neat with his spelling papers, but slovenly with his arithmetic papers. A man may be graciously generous to the members of his own family, and cold and calculating and cruel to his employees. Shining virtues and destructive vices may co-exist in the same person. Christianity's task is to eliminate all these lower elements in human nature, and to so help a man superintend his own development that he will slowly become a well harmonized being."

Bride of Hour Killed In Automobile Crash

ELICOTT CITY, Md., Dec. 7.—(AP)—Less than an hour after her wedding here, Mrs. Clara Daniels, 18, of Alexandria, Va., was fatally injured in an automobile accident. She died at the Montgomery county hospital.

Her husband, Melvin Daniels, 21, was only slightly hurt, but Mrs. Daniels was taken to a hospital in a serious condition. Carlton H. Skinner, the latter's husband, the driver of the machine, was arrested on a charge of reckless driving.

250-Pound Buck Deer Falls Close to Auto

NEWBURGH, N. Y., Dec. 6.—(AP)—A 250-pound buck deer fell from a precipice and almost struck the car in which two men were riding along the Storm King road near here last night.

Ernest Jones, driver, clamped on his brakes just in time to escape death.

The deer was killed by the fall.

SENTENCED TO DEATH FOR SLUGGING DRIVER

BUENOS AIRES, Dec. 7.—(AP)—The newspaper Critica says that martial law, which has been in effect in Argentina since the summer revolution, brought death sentences today to three men who yesterday slugged and robbed a taxiab driver. The prisoners were tried by court-martial.

The Oglethorpe Book of Georgia Verse

Edited by Thornwell Jacobs, Litt. P., L.L.D.

Assisted by Mary Brent Whiteside, Litt. P., and James Edward Routh, Ph. D.

A comprehensive Anthology of the poets of Georgia, covering a period of two hundred years. An invaluable reference work for schools and libraries.

$4.00, delivered.

OGLETHORPE UNIVERSITY PRESS
Oglethorpe University, Ga. (adv.)

When does Tomato Juice become a cocktail? After you've added the LEA & PERRINS SAUCE

HOOVER HEARS YOUNG WOMAN PREACHER

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—(UP)—A rosy-cheeked young English woman, who runs an east side settlement house in London, preached to President Hoover in the simple Quaker meeting house here today.

She was Muriel Lester, self-styled "parson," friend of all denominations and founder of Kingsley Hall, the Bow, London. Her message was one of "Brotherly Love," which she has cultivated in England's slums for 15 years. The down-and-out of every creed and race came to Kingsley Hall, she said, and found friends and faith. Nations and races could do the same if they would be humble, she said.

Tall, fair-haired and smiling, she looked more the part of a school girl than a benefactress. Her blue eyes flashed and her pink cheeks glowed as she stood up by the pulpit and said: "Christians must show the way! By this sign shall ye know them, that they love one another!"

Christmas Baskets at Kamper's

NOTHING could be more appreciated than a box or basket of delicacies especially prepared by KAMPER'S—whether it be for some friend who has been denied these luxuries, or whether for someone thoroughly familiar with selected foods. For palatable bits, choose from our stock of fine foods—most reasonably priced this year!

a few other Suggestions:

A Box of Georgia Pecans,
A Kamper Fruit Cake,
Excellent Canned Foods,
A Fine Elberta Ham,
A Box of Selected Fruits,
A Box of Assorted Candies, Fine Bottled Delicacies,
A Box of Crystallized Fruits.

Kamper's
Since 1881, an Atlanta-Owned Institution

ROGERS QUALITY FOOD SHOPS

ROGERS
PARKER HOUSE ROLLS
PKG.

5c

Another Low Price
Made by Rogers:

Argo—Yellow Cling

PEACHES 2 NO. 2 CANS 25c

Del Monte—Early Garden

PEAS NO. 2 CAN 15c

American Beauty or Skinner's Spaghetti, or

Macaroni 3 PKGS. FOR 25c

Fancy Wisconsin—Fully Aged

CHEESE L.B. 24c

Shredded

COCOANUT L.B. 25c

Canova Black

PEPPER 1-LB. BOX 25c

For the Baby or Convalescent—Gerber's Strained

Vegetables 2 CANS FOR 25c

SOLVE YOUR FOOD PROBLEMS!

QUICKLY AND ECONOMICALLY BY SHOPPING AT ROGERS—AND SAVE YOUR VALUABLE TIME FOR SELECTING YOUR CHRISTMAS GIFTS.

FRUITS AND VEGETABLES

A CHOICE SELECTION OF THE FINEST THE MARKET AFFORDS—IN ALL OUR STORES.

GEORGIA KILN-DRIED

PORTO RICAN

YAMS

5 LBS. FOR 19c

CANADIAN

RUTABAGAS

L.B. 2c

FANCY WINESAP

APPLES

DOZ. 27c

MEDIUM SIZE—FLORIDA

ORANGES

DOZ. 15c

FRESH MEATS

Pork Chops L.B. 25c

HAVE YOU TRIED THESE LATELY!

WIENERS L.B. 23c

OUR OWN MAKE—PURE PORK

SAUSAGE L.B. 28c

PABST-ETT and also the 3 new varieties of

PABST-ETT CHEESE

SWISS—AMERICAN 2 CARTONS FOR 39c

AND PIMENTO

SCHOONER SINKS, DROWNING SEVEN

Coal-Laden Craft Founders in Long Island Sound.

WATCH HILL, R. I., Dec. 7.—(AP)—Seven persons lost their lives when the coal-laden schooner Storm Petrel foundered in the wind-swept waters of Long Island Sound seven miles off here late yesterday. The tragedy did not become known until today when coast guard boats returned after a long search for survivors.

Four men, including the captain, two women and a child, were victims. The Storm Petrel, which had been in trouble at sea a few days ago, left the New London base yesterday in tow of the coast guard ship Nemah. Three hours after leaving, the boatswain commanding the Nemah became dissatisfied with the light which a small search light was throwing upon his tow, some 200 yards astern. He switched it off for a moment while preparing to throw a larger light onto the Storm Petrel. But when the stronger beam was focused where the schooner had been the craft had already plunged to the bottom.

The Nemah immediately put about and radioed New London which ordered four destroyers and two patrol boats to proceed to the spot with all available speed. No trace of the seven aboard the Storm Petrel could be found.

The Storm Petrel was owned by the Fingerbread Coal Company, of New Brighton, Long Island. small craft was not known here nor was the number of persons drowned or the number aboard when the Sientau left here for Changsha. Unverified earlier dispatches said 300 had drowned but this was discredited by the size of the Sientau and it was considered the report was grossly exaggerated.

SANTA CLAUS And Want Ads

Santa Claus won't have such a hard time making up a budget if he will use the want ads of The Constitution. Hundreds of people read the want ads every day looking for bargains—and they have the cash to pay. Make a search of the home-gather up the articles no longer in use—Call W. A. 6565 and let an advertiser help you word a small ad—Results will surprise you.

READ AND USE
The Constitution's
WANT AD PAGES

"First in the Day—First to Pay"

REGRETS BURNING OF BILBO EFFIGY

UNIVERSITY, Miss., Dec. 7.—(AP)—Regret was expressed tonight by Chancellor J. N. Powers, of the University of Mississippi, over the burning last night of an effigy bearing a placard, "Down With Bilbo."

Chancellor Powers said no investigation had yet been started, since he only returned to the university tonight. "I have nothing to say, because I have not yet had time to make an investigation," the chancellor asserted. "Of course, I am indeed sorry the regrettable incident had to occur—particularly in my absence."

Governor Bilbo was at his Poplarville plantation home tonight, and no statement from him was forthcoming.

CAPTAIN FRANK HAWKS REACHES WASHINGTON

Flyer Who Left Atlanta Sunday Lands Safely at Capital.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Captain Frank Hawks, flying from Atlanta, landed at dusk today on Bolling field for ceremonies tomorrow in which he will take the last ride in his continent-spanning glider, the Tetaco Eagle, before its formal retirement to the Smithsonian Institution.

The glider, which has been flown more than 4,000 miles, will be towed by an airplane piloted by J. D. "Duke" Jernigan, who pulled the craft across the continent last spring.

Frank Tichenor, aeronautical publisher, will present the glider to the Smithsonian to Dr. C. G. Abbot, Smithsonian secretary. F. Trubee Davison, assistant secretary of war for aeronautics, will be a speaker.

In the museum the glider will be placed with craft which have figured prominently in America's aeronautical history including the "Spirit of St. Louis," in which Charles A. Lindbergh made his epic trans-Atlantic flight.

Captain Hawks, in the face of adverse weather conditions, left Candler field about 10 o'clock Sunday morning in his "Texas 13," Travel Air Mystery "S," high-speed little monoplane. He was forced to fly through extremely unfavorable weather in order to reach Washington Sunday and he is in readiness for the Smithsonian Institution presentation today.

CHICAGO KIDNAPERS QUICKLY CAPTURED

CHICAGO, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Two robbers who kidnaped Carl V. Wisner, Chicago attorney, and his niece in a holdup tonight were captured 10 minutes later after a running gun fight with two police squads. No one was injured in the battle.

The attorney and his niece had been snatched from the sidewalk in front of the Wisner home just after they had alighted from an automobile. A quick call to police resulted in immediate pursuit. Neither Wisner nor the girl had been harmed by their captors, they said.

$7,000 LIQUOR CACHE FOUND ON FREIGHTER

BALTIMORE, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Hidden in a tank aboard the freighter Munloy, of the Mursan Steamship Company, Baltimore customs inspectors yesterday discovered 330 gallon demijohns of Bacardi rum valued at $7,000 and today prepared for a more extensive search of the boat. The freighter arrived in port Thursday with a cargo of refined sugar from Havana. Customs men declined to say what prompted them to closely examine the vessel, but company agents were of the opinion stowaways were sought.

The federal authorities pointed out the capture of undeclared goods. They added they did not find any more contraband but they "were taking no chances."

Cross Sections of Life In Gate City of South

Russell Y. Smith, representative for the Ross Beason & Company, Inc., dealers in corporate trust shares, will have charge of an exhibition this afternoon and tonight in Rooms 3 and 6 of the Atlanta Biltmore hotel of sound motion pictures on the general subject of the more than 20 basic stocks underlying the trust market, it was announced Sunday. Pictures will be shown at 3 o'clock this afternoon and again at 8 o'clock tonight.

Elijah H. Bryant, a special officer in the city criminal court for the past quarter of a century, is reported to be much improved at McJannet's hospital on Peachtree street, where Mr. Bryant has been confined for the past seven weeks with an attack of rheumatism.

Councilman W. Paul Carpenter, of the ninth ward, will go on trial Tuesday morning in Judge Edgar E. Pomeroy's division of Fulton superior court on a charge of bribing ex-City Clerk Walter C. Taylor in connection with an auctioneer's license. Judge Pomeroy Saturday sustained the state's demurrer to a defense plea in abatement.

Governor-elect Richard B. Russell, Jr., will deliver the principal address at the monthly meeting of the Atlanta Lawyers' Club to be held at the Henry Grady hotel Friday afternoon.

Judge R. C. Bell, of the Georgia court of appeals, will be the speaker at the monthly meeting of the Georgia Women Lawyers' Association to be held at 6 o'clock Wednesday night at the Henry Grady hotel.

Suit will be filed this week in Jacksonville against the Carling Hotel, Inc., seeking $8,000 for the board of Atlanta for two months' rent on the old city hall site, which was leased for 65 years for an aggregate sum of $3,500,000.

Dr. Robert Andrews Millikan, scientist and winner of the Nobel prize in physics for 1926, will lecture at Emory University at 8 o'clock Tuesday night on the subject, "New Knowledge Concerning the Universe Around Us."

Mayor-elect James L. Key will launch a survey of all departments of the borough government this week as a preliminary step in his plan to permit all departmental heads to conduct their governmental divisions without dictation from council committees.

Hearings on motor bus transportation of freight and passengers over public highways will begin at the Atlanta Biltmore this morning before Leo J. Flynn, attorney examiner for the interstate commerce commission.

School administration officials will ask the Atlanta board of education to direct a policy in setting up the proposed budget for operation of the public school system during 1937, at the regular meeting of the board Tuesday afternoon.

Atlanta will formally tender the $250,000 in real estate fee, fas. to the Manufacturers' Acceptance Corporation, of Baltimore, on December 20, it has been announced.

Potestants and divans from Shrine temples will be guests of Yaaraa ten-

MORE MEN AND MONEY ASKED IN NAVY REPORT

Secretary Adams Stresses Need for Increases in Personnel.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Secretary Adams sailed straightway into a statement of the wants of the navy for men and money today in his annual report.

Addressing President Hoover, he called for more man power, better pay and promotions at regular intervals to prevent the "stagnation" of officers through long service in the same grade.

The navy secretary pointed out that the present level of compensation was 11 per cent above that received in 1908, but said the cost of living had more than doubled since that time.

Other legislative proposals for which he advocated congressional approval included: Authorization to modernize the battleships New Mexico, Mississippi and Idaho.

Establishment of a naval airship base on the Pacific coast; Guarantee for conservation of the naval petroleum and oil shale reserves; Bans against photographs, sketches or maps of vital military and naval defense installations and equipment.

The increasing importance of aviation to the naval forces was evident throughout the report. A 6-plane patrol unit will be added to both battle and scouting fleets, and two scouting squadrons of 20 planes and 12 planes, respectively, will be attached to new light cruisers.

"A need exists for additional air-sea carriers in order to exploit to the full the possibilities of naval aviation in operations with the fleet," Adams said. A west coast air base was considered essential and selection of a site was urged upon congress at an early date, whether or not the navy ordered construction of a new giant dirigible.

During the year, the "number of enlisted men was not adequate to man fully all types of ships, and it was necessary to operate most types of ships with allowances which were considerably under the actual complement of the ships."

The allowances averaged but 87.9 per cent of the actual complement of the ships, which the secretary said "does not keep a navy fully prepared for war."

Although Ernest Lee Jahneke, assistant secretary, has been active in curtailing work at naval shore stations as an economy measure, the report found there were "more navy yards on the east coast than could be economically maintained."

13 Reported Slain In Fight in Mexico

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 7.—(UP)—A dispatch from Aguascalientes to the newspaper El Universal tonight said that 13 persons had been killed and four others wounded in a fight between farmers and bandits near Aguascalientes. The bandits were headed by Jose Velasco, the dispatch reported. The casualties were reported to have included both bandits and farmers, but the dispatch did not specify how many of each was killed.

For the One You Love—an ELGIN

A gift that will be a constant reminder of your devotion... a beautiful piece of jewelry... yet an accurate, serviceable timepiece... an Elgin.

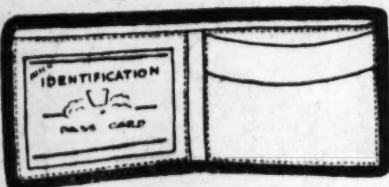

This efficient Elgin (above) is extremely good looking. Has a 15 jewel movement in a 14 K solid yellow gold engraved case. Luminous dial and hands... $50.00

Many other models in Elgin watches for men and women are displayed in our pre-Holiday display. $14.85 to $450.00

A richly engraved Elgin wristwatch is a 14 K white gold filled case. $32.50

This Elgin may be had in white or red gold filled case. 15 jewel movement. $37.50

Best Leather Billfold in the World

For the $1 Price

Name Marked in Gold Free.

Order by Mail

Atlanta's Only Exclusive Luggage Shop

W. Z. Turner Luggage Co.
219 PEACHTREE ST.

Installment buying of financial protection for one's family by means of life insurance is economically sound. But payment of cash in full when the protection falls due is always fraught with danger. And....

For your family

trusteeing the proceeds of your life insurance, with certain discretion in emergencies allowed to your trustee, may be the ideal arrangement.

Our experience in connection with Life Insurance Trusts, both as to their relation to the affairs of the family and to many problems of business, may be helpful to you.

The subject is discussed in our new book, "What You May Decide About Your Estate," on pages 30 to 35.

This book also gives other useful information regarding the creation, protection and distribution of an estate. It is thumb indexed for quick reference. We invite you to write or telephone for a copy.

CITIZENS & SOUTHERN NATIONAL BANK

ATHENS
MACON

ATLANTA
SAVANNAH

AUGUSTA
VALDOSTA

DR. WILLIAM E. BARTON PASSES 70TH YEAR

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—(AP)—The Rev. Dr. William E. Barton, noted clergyman, author and lecturer, died today, aged 69.

Death occurred at 5 a. m. at the Long Island College hospital, Brooklyn, where he had been critically ill for the past month.

He was the father of Bruce Barton, widely known advertising man and author.

Two of his sons, Charles William Barton, editor and publisher of the Sheridan (Wyo.) Enterprise, and Bruce Barton, were at the bedside. His wife died in 1925.

Services will be held at the Broadway Tabernacle Tuesday, church of the Rev. Dr. Nehemiah Boynton, a life-long friend, who, like Dr. Barton, was a moderator of the National Council of Congregational Churches, the highest office in that denomination.

Burial will be at Foxboro, Mass., alongside his wife, and where he maintained a summer home.

It was a satisfaction to Dr. Barton that his last work in the ministry should have been in Tennessee, the state where he began as a circuit rider more than 40 years ago. Since 1926 he had made his winter home in Nashville, where he occupied the chair of practical theology in Vanderbilt University, and there he organized the College of the Church which he served until stricken in September. His successor as pastor of this church is Jason Noble Pierce, formerly pastor of the church which President Coolidge attended in Washington.

SIR OTTO BEIT.
LONDON, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Sir Otto Beit, formerly one of Great Britain's most prominent financiers and who was associated particularly in development of South African companies at the beginning of the century, died today, he was 65.

In 1897 he married Lillian Carter, daughter of the late T. L. Carter, of New Orleans.

EDWARD DAVID COHEN.
SEATTLE, Wash., Dec. 7.—(AP)—Edward David Cohen, 73, well known newspaperman, and a colorful political figure, died here Saturday after a long illness.

MAJOR WILLIAM CAIN.
CHAPEL HILL, N. C., Dec. 7.—(AP)—Major William Cain, 83, professor emeritus of mathematics at the University of North Carolina, died here early today of injuries received when he was struck by an automobile yesterday. Major Cain suffered a broken hip and internal injuries. He died without regaining consciousness. Funeral services will be held here tomorrow afternoon. Interment will be in the family burial ground in Hillsboro. University associates will serve as pallbearers.

Colds

Don't let them keep you indoors

Get rid of your cold at once so you can get out and enjoy life. For 15 years Grove's Laxative BROMO QUININE Tablets have provided the quick, pleasant way to cure colds.

A reputation acquired through 41 years of international sale. Get a box at any drug store, 30c, and try it.

Grove's Laxative
BROMO QUININE Tablets

Your dollar has more buying power today than in the past 10 years. These are prices of the new era.

You can buy the above watches for $1 Weekly

Le Grand JEWELRY CO.

Piedmont Hotel Bldg. 106 Peachtree Street Next to Flower Shop

At Our December COOKING SCHOOL

Mrs. DuH

Will demonstrate the preparation of various kinds of Christmas Cakes and Icings!

TIME: Tuesday and Wednesday, December 9 and 10.

PLACE: Atlanta Gas Light Company, Peachtree and Harris Sts. (Take elevator on first floor. Classes will be held in auditorium on fourth floor.)

HOURS: Promptly at 10:30 each morning.

MENUS: Wednesday—Mrs. DuH will roast the turkey.

Every one is cordially invited. There is no admission charge. Our monthly cooking school is a part of the service of our Home Service Department to the women of Atlanta.

ATLANTA GASLIGHT COMPANY

Main Office: PEACHTREE AT HARRIS—Jackson 5101

BOYS, YOU CAN WIN THIS CONSTITUTION GREYHOUND Coaster Wagon

free

Mail or bring in the coupon below and enroll for yours
TODAY

NOTE: In Atlanta and suburbs, where this coaster wagon is delivered to the winner at The Constitution office, only three new six-month subscriptions will be required. Outside of the city of Atlanta and suburbs the delivery will be made by express, charges collect, for only three subscriptions. Should four acceptable subscriptions, however, be secured, the coaster wagon will be sent express prepaid.

And now every little girl can have a baby doll because this one is free

and it's a big TICKLETOES

There isn't a single little girl in Atlanta or 'round about who need worry whether or not Santa Claus is going to come to her house this year for this offer made by The Atlanta Constitution affords an opportunity to have Tickletoes and her lovely bed (a gift to be adored and cherished by any little girl) without a penny's cost.

If you could buy Tickletoes at the store she alone would cost from $10 to $12 because she's a big "life-like" baby doll beautifully dressed in or-gandy with trimmings of lace and ribbons. And she crys when you squeeze her dimpled knees, too. She rolls her eyes, and her little arms, legs and cute little fingers and toes are of moulded rubber that feel and look exactly real. And when her tiny hands and legs get dirty, you can wash them with soap and water just like you do your own.

NOTE:—Only two new six-month subscriptions will be required in the city of Atlanta and near-by suburbs when the doll is delivered to the winner at the office of The Constitution. Those living outside of Atlanta and suburbs, where the doll has to be sent by parcel post or express, on account of extra expense for packing, shipping and carrying charges, three subscriptions will be required.

DOLL REGISTRATION COUPON

Fill out below and bring or mail at once to:

The Atlanta Constitution,
Forsyth and Alabama Sts.
Atlanta, Ga.

Date

Please enroll my name for one of the free dolls offered by The Atlanta Constitution, and send me at once full particulars of how to earn same.

Name

Street Address

City

State

Phone No.

The Constitution "Greyhound" is one of the most attractive Coaster Wagons you will be able to find in Atlanta! Retail stores would charge from $10 to $12 for it, but through this remarkable offer you can get it without paying any money at all. Any little boy can secure 3 new six-month subscriptions to the Daily and Sunday Constitution, and that's all you are required to do to get this dandy wagon—FREE. Ask your friends to help you. Probably the very ones that you least expected will be willing to subscribe. Just 3 new subscriptions—that's all there is to it. Money is not necessary.

Look at these specifications— See what a Wonderful Coaster Wagon this is:

BODY: Size 16x36 in., depth 4 in., and thoroughly bolted together by continuous bolt both front and rear, which insures an indestructible body.

GEAR: Heavy channel construction with 5-in. fifth wheel placed midway between body and axle.

WHEELS: 10-in. roller-bearing special balloon type, enameled gray with red center and black stripe. Wheels have screw-on hub caps which will not jar loose, but may be taken off and put on at will.

NOTE RULES FOR SUBSCRIPTIONS

Each subscriber, whether for doll, doll bed or the coaster wagon, must be new. A new subscriber is someone who is not now, and has not been, a subscriber, directly or indirectly, to the Daily and Sunday Constitution within 30 days prior to November 10, 1930. Do not waste time sending in the names of people who are already taking The Atlanta Constitution.

Stopping The Atlanta Constitution in a house for one family, or individual, and starting The Constitution right back for another family, or an individual, will not count. The switching of names or changing the address from the business address to the home address, or vice versa, will not count. Orders signed by minors will not be accepted. Orders signed by single men will not be accepted unless they are permanent residents of Atlanta and hold responsible positions. The Constitution reserves the right to finally accept or reject any subscription secured by any contestant.

Each order must be for a period of six months, and cannot and will not be cancelled during the life of the contract after once accepted. Orders received for less time than six months will not be accepted.

This offer is not open to employees of The Atlanta Constitution and immediate members of their families, to carriers or agents, or members of their families.

COASTER WAGON REGISTRATION COUPON

Date

The Atlanta Constitution,
Forsyth and Alabama Sts.,
Atlanta, Ga.

Please enroll my name for a free wagon offered by the daily and Sunday Constitution, and send me by return mail full particulars how to secure same.

Name

Street Address

City

Phone No.

State

YOUTHFUL ITALIAN HERO IS HONORED

GENOA, Italy, Dec. 7.—(AP)—The youth of Italy today celebrated the festival of the greatest urchin in Italian history, Balilla, who on December 6, 1786, led his fellow citizens in driving the invading Austrians out of the port of Genoa.

The festival, which normally falls on a week day, was celebrated today so that no time would be lost from work or school.

The fascist Boy Scout organization, the National Order of Balilla, has taken its name from this street-boy of Genoa, Giovanni Battista Perasso, who has come down to fame by his nickname of Balilla.

COUGHING THOXINE

You get almost instant relief with one swallow of

Rub-My-Tism Salve

is a doctor's prescription for treating

Children's Colds Externally.

The Most Speedy Remedy Known.

KOLD-LIXIR

For Coughs

2 SUPPOSED CONVICTS SHOT IN BIRMINGHAM

Police Wound, Capture Pair Thought Wanted in North Carolina.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Dec. 7.—(AP)—Two men believed to have escaped from the North Carolina state prison at Raleigh, N. C., were shot and later captured by Birmingham officers early today following an automobile chase near the downtown business district.

The two men, whom police listed as J. L. Sullivan and Ollie Moore, were taken to a local hospital, where they were placed under guard to await the arrival here of North Carolina officers en route here on orders of George Ross Pou, of Raleigh, superintendent of the prison.

Sullivan, shot in the head, was reported in a critical condition and faced the possibility of losing sight of both eyes. Moore was shot in the foot.

The two men were shot when they attempted to flee after their automobile had struck a telephone pole. Sullivan dropped to the ground wounded, while Moore escaped. Moore later was captured in a negro house.

Police said the car occupied by the two men was reported stolen in Warrenton, N. C., and that a quantity of merchandise was found in the car. Officers also said they found a repeating rifle, jammed, in the car.

Charles on which the two men were serving sentences in the North Carolina prison were not made known here in communications with the prison superintendent.

"Strictly Dishonorable" Is At Erlanger Tonight

Cesar Romero and Margaret Sullivan, principals in the cast of "Strictly Dishonorable," which opens a week's engagement at the Erlanger theater tonight.

Brock Pemberton's production of "Strictly Dishonorable," the gay comedy which captured Broadway completely at its opening in September, 1929, will open at the Erlanger theater tonight for an engagement of one week with matinees Wednesday and Saturday.

"Strictly Dishonorable" comes here with a New York cast. It is now in its second year in Manhattan, and is soon to have ten companies playing it all over the world. It has brought a very sizable fortune to Brock Pemberton, its producer; Antoinette Perry, its co-director; Preston Sturges, its author, and many others. Recently the Meguire prize of $5,000 was awarded to "Strictly Dishonorable." This is the second of ten yearly awards which are to be made by the Dramatists' Guild of America from a fund donated by the late Rex Cooper Meguire, well-known playwright, and Stella Meguire, his mother. Under the terms of the award the prize is to be given to a member of the Guild whose play "produced in New York city makes the audience a little brighter and a little more cheered up when it leaves the theater than when it came in."

The story, a cleverly expressed idea with a universal appeal, has been written with twinkling gaiety and refreshing lightness of touch. It has a straightforward grace and a suavity in such measure that its premiere was greeted unanimously by Broadway reviewers with unstinted praise. A romantic operatic tenor, a judge who enjoys his liquor in his hours of leisure, an innocently adventurous maid from the south and an argumentative lover from the rural communities, people the story; the action takes place in and about a typical Manhattan speakeasy.

Included in the cast are Margaret

Sullivan, Cesar Romero, Willard Dashiell, Rudolph Badaloni, Joseph McCallion, K. B. Williams, Leo Leone and Edward Harford.

GERMANY CONSIDERS FOREIGN MATTERS

With Budget Fight Won, Government Shifts Attention.

BERLIN, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Having won its long parliamentary struggle to clamp the lid of economy on Germany's treasury, the government now has its hands free to deal with other pressing problems, notably those in the field of foreign policy.

Among parties of the middle, yesterday's reichstag votes sustaining not only the finance reform laws decreed by President Von Hindenburg but also the cabinet responsible for them, are regarded as a great victory for Chancellor Bruening. But even more, they are regarded as a vital affirmative answer to the question, "Shall Germany continue as a democracy or be ruled by a dictatorship?"

The social democrats, who notwithstanding their objections to Bruening's program, furnished the votes that saved him from defeat, likewise attached the most far-reaching importance to the outcome.

In voting against the nationalist, communist and national-socialist motions to revoke the finance laws and unseat the cabinet, the social democrats, says the Socialist Vorwarts, "in effect refused to help a fascist dictatorship into the saddle."

This view, that the outcome of the recent turbulent political war has been to make Germany safe for democracy, is by no means shared by the communist, fascist and nationalist press. While all sides seem to be agreed that the political atmosphere has been cleared by the reichstag vote, Herr Hugenberg's nationalist papers see the result only as "the suicide of democracy."

"The reichstag," comments the Lokalseniger, "has emasculated itself. Parliamentarism has committed, fool someone with its ghostly dir-hara kiri." Behind "its hedge of reality. What we really have now is licenmen the reichstag continues its Bruening dictatorship by permission shadow play and still fondly hopes to of the social democrats."

Faster surer relief from COLDS

ONLY at SCHNEER'S

CAN YOU BUY A NATIONALLY ADVERTISED
DIAMOND
BRIDAL PAIR
$29.50

Exquisite heart-shaped Solitaire with 5 Diamonds heart-set wedding band to match.

SCHNEER'S 25¢
110 WHITEHALL ST.
OPEN EVENINGS
UNTIL 10 O'CLOCK
25¢
WEEKLY
PAY SCHNEER NEXT YEAR

O N D I S P L A Y T O D A Y

The Ford Victoria

A NEW FORD BODY TYPE OF DISTINCTIVE BEAUTY

TODAY, a new Ford body type of distinctive beauty is on display by Ford dealers in this city and throughout the United States. It is called the Victoria and is distinguished by many features of design, comfort and convenience. It marks a new degree of value in a low-price car.

The striking lines of the Ford Victoria are especially apparent in the graceful sweep of the straighter, lower top, the slanting windshield and the curving bustle back, with the spare wheel set at a conforming angle. There is a suggestion of continental design also in the shape and size of the side windows and the intimate four-passenger seating arrangement.

As you open the door and step within the car you will be impressed by the dignity and richness of its appointments. Many details of finish reflect the mode and manner of a custom-built automobile.

The ample, deeply cushioned seats are carefully tailored and upholstered in luxurious mohair or fashionable Bedford cord, optional with the purchaser. Both of the individual front seats have form-fitting backs and fold forward. The rear seat is low and comfortable, with side arm rests that contribute to easy riding. Satin-finish hardware gives a quiet touch of brightness.

Another appreciated feature of the new Ford Victoria is a choice of attractive body colors in rich pyroxylin lacquer. They complement its fresh new lines and contour and help to give it distinctive place on every highway.

See this beautiful new car today at the showrooms of the nearest Ford dealer and arrange for a road demonstration. You will find much to admire in its safety, comfort, and alert, capable performance.

FEATURES OF THE NEW FORD VICTORIA

Beautiful lines, colors and upholstery... ease of control... quick acceleration... 35 to 65 miles an hour... silent, fully enclosed four-wheel brakes... Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield... four Houdaille double-acting hydraulic shock absorbers... Rustless Steel... aluminum pistons... chrome silicon alloy valves... torque-tube drive... three-quarter floating rear axle... more than twenty ball and roller bearings... unusual accuracy in manufacturing... reliability and long life... You will save many dollars because of the low first cost of the Ford and the low cost of operation.

NEW FORD VICTORIA $625

Roadster	$435	De Luxe Roadster	$520
Phaeton	440	De Luxe Phaeton	545
Coupe	495	De Luxe Coupe	545
Tudor Sedan	495	De Luxe Sedan	640
Sport Coupe	525	Convertible Cabriolet	625
Fordor Sedan	600	Town Sedan	660

F. O. B. Detroit, plus freight, delivery and spare tire. Bumpers are extra except on the De Luxe Roadster and De Luxe Phaeton.

You can purchase a Ford for a small down payment and on convenient, economical terms through the Authorized Ford Finance Plans of the Universal Credit Company.

This Famous Thor
Agitator Washer
Only $10 Down

A small down payment of $10 will solve your weekly wash-day problems for years to come. With the famous Thor Electric Washer, the average family wash can be done in about one third of the time that the older method required. Baby's dainties and linens are washed to the same gleaming cleanness as the larger articles.

Visit our store at 75 Marietta street. Examine in detail the many models of Thor Washers. A washing machine expert will be glad to show you how they operate, and will explain our convenient payment plan, whereby you may purchase a Thor Washer for a small down payment, and pay the balance in 18 easy monthly installments.

Or, if you prefer, simply call WALNUT 6121 and ask for a free demonstration in your own home. There's no obligation.

GEORGIA POWER COMPANY

—A CITIZEN WHEREVER WE SERVE—

Interest from Dec. 1 on Deposits Made by Dec. 10

Quarterly interest compounded
4 1/2%

Per Annum
EMPIRE TRUST COMPANY

HENRY R. KENNEDY, PRES.
(Organized 1915)

54 Broad Street, N. W.

Resources more than $500,000.00
Convenient Location—Personal Attention

Twinkling Lights On Trees To Shed
Christmas Cheer

BY BEN COOPER.

In years gone by the dancing into the castle of a heavy Yule log for the Christmas fire was one of the principal events of interest in the celebration of that day of days. The passage of time and development of science has resulted in a new custom by which Atlantans observe Christmas.

On thousands of Atlanta lawns, lighted living trees will send forth good cheer and the warmth of human fellowship this Christmas. The twinkling colored lights, entwined in shrubbery, express sentiments that can be enjoyed by those who pass by in the evening. On some of the streets, the lighted trees will extend for blocks and blocks in front of every house for this business of lighting living trees is quite contagious.

The Camp Fire Girls, whose movement to light the living trees is sponsored by The Constitution, pointed out Sunday that the lighting process requires very little money and effort, and that a small tree can be lighted just as effectively as a larger tree. Some home-owners always light several trees, some times one on each side of the front steps, and sometimes a line of trees fronting the house. The current is provided by an extension cord, including a protecting fuse block, and the lights are scattered throughout the tree so as to afford harmony of colors in red, green, blue, white, etc. Various designs are worked out by some of the lighted tree owners.

Residents of Ansley Park and similar sections always go in for lighted trees in a big way, with the result that especially charming effects are obtained.

Atlantans planning to light trees are requested to call the Camp Fire Girls, Walnut 3738, or The Constitution, Walnut 6565.

MRS. SARA BOWDEN DIES OF INJURIES

Mrs. Sara J. Bowden, 79, died at the home of her son F. O. Bowden, near Hapeville, shortly after noon Sunday as the result of injuries received in a fall there late Saturday afternoon. Services will be conducted at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at the Pleasant Hill church in Campbell county and interment will be in the churchyard.

Mrs. Bowden, for many years a beloved citizen of Forsyth, had made her home with her son for the past few years. She also is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Robert M. Millican; two sisters, Mrs. J. C. Corley, Sr., of Forsyth, and Mrs. J. A. Jones, of Barnesville; three grandchildren, Harold Millican, Norris Millican and Billy Millican, all of Atlanta.

The funeral cortege will leave the residence of her daughter at 1:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

PROBE OF "INSULTS" TO CONTINUE TODAY

Investigation of insults alleged to have been offered girl employees of the city by certain officials will be continued by the Fulton county grand jury in special meeting Monday, according to plans being made Saturday by Solicitor-General John A. Boykin.

The probe started Friday with the calling of nearly all of the women employed at the city hall, as well as a number of department heads, and other men connected with the city. Several of the negro helpers at the city hall also were called.

WOMAN'S CLUB PRESENTS JOEL CHANDLER HARRIS PROGRAM

Princess Der Ling Lectures
At Agnes Scott College Today

In perpetuation of the name, literature and immortal folklore tales of the late Joel Chandler Harris, affectionately spoken of as "Uncle Remus," a program will be presented this afternoon at the Atlanta Woman's Club under the sponsorship of the Uncle Remus Association, of which Mrs. A. McD. Wilson is president. Judge W. F. Jenkins, whose father was a boyhood friend of the noted author, will relate incidents of the life of Joel Chandler Harris from the date of his birth on December 9, 1849, in Eatonton, Ga., covering the interesting period that tells of his boyhood and the attraction of the "Gully Minstrels" for the entertainment of the townfolk. He published a newspaper on the plantation in Putnam county, where he drew his conception of negro life from the slaves, and afterward wrote the tales which have delighted worldwide readers. Mr. Harris sought no public glory, and great men turned from their paths to seek and cultivate this noble character.

Chinese Princesses Speak.
Wearing the colorful costume of the nobility of ancient China, Princess Der Ling, famous as a lecturer and author, is to be a distinguished visitor here today, coming for the express purpose of relating, this evening, her experiences at the Manchou court, as one of the attractions presented by the lecture association of Agnes Scott College. Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Dolan had an informal tea in her honor yesterday at their home on Ridgeway road, having met Princess Der Ling seven years ago, when they resided in Peking, China, when Mr. Dolan was sent by the government to teach aviation to the Chinese. The interesting lecturer from the orient is an accomplished linguist and student of western culture as well as that of her own land. She was first lady-in-waiting to the late dowager empress of China, and her lectures deal with three unusual phases of China. They are the modern women of China, at the Manchou court, and Chinese politics of today.

Washington, D. C. Visitor.
A debutante from the social ranks of Washington, D. C., Miss Mary Ruden, has the social spotlight focused upon her this evening, for she is to be central figure in the buffet supper given by Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Yancey and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Quinn, at their home on Sixteenth street. She is visiting her cousins, Misses Marion Yundt and Lucy Yundt, and is conceded to be one of the most popular of the December visitors. Miss Ruden is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel, former residents of Atlanta.

Mrs. Hampton Ellis will be hostess at luncheon Tuesday in compliment to her nieces, Miss Phoebe Rhett, that be given at her home in Peachtree circle.

Wednesday's Bazaar.
Society turns its attention to philanthropic affairs Wednesday and will patronize the bazaar at All Saints Episcopal church, sponsored by the Woman's Guild to raise funds to promote the church charities, the bazaar to be staged in Egleston hall. Mrs. Dan Harris is general chairman and Mesdames Dudley Cowles, Houston Johnston, Edward S. Lewis, Louise Windham and Deaconess Katherine Windham will assist her in decorating and arranging the booths. A turkey dinner will be served by Mesdames Earl Scott and Thomas Morgan and their committee including Mesdames Willis Jones, Evans Joseph, Sherwood Higge, J. N. Harper, J. L. Quinn, T. B. French, Albert Dunn, Thomas Crenshaw, John R. Dillon, H. L. Wells, F. B. Clarke, Lena Swift Huntley, J. R. Polk, J. Stanley Moore, Pinta De Brule, Albert Clower, Claude Buchanan, Thomas Akridge, Irene R. Williams, R. L. Walker, L. H. Warner, A. B. McMillan, Moreland Speer, A. H. Sterne, H. E. Stillwell, L. D. Stoney, Mesdames Margaret and Frances Steger, debutante daughters of Colonel John Overton Steger, U. S. A., and Mrs. Steger, will be the featured attractions of the bazaar.

Misses Margaret and Frances Steger.
Misses Margaret and Frances Steger, debutante daughters of Colonel John Overton Steger, U. S. A., and Mrs. Steger, will be the featured attractions of the bazaar.

Misses Margaret and Frances Steger.
Misses Margaret and Frances Steger, debutante daughters of Colonel John Overton Steger, U. S. A., and Mrs. Steger, will be the featured attractions of the bazaar.

Three Bottles Helped Her
"I cannot praise your good medicine enough. After my baby came I was rundown. I had to go to bed often through the day. I took three bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I felt like a different woman. If any other mother has those tired feelings like I had, I advise her to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. Harold Goodnow, 36 Cane Street, Fitchburg, Massachusetts.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound
Lydia E. Pinkham Med. Co. (Incl. Mail)

Shop in The Evening
For the convenience of our many patrons who cannot select their gifts during the day we will be open evenings until Christmas.
Our Divided Payment Plan Eliminates Many January Bills
Claude S. Bennett
INCORPORATED
DIAMOND MERCHANTS
118 Alabama St., S. W.—Just Off Whitehall

Prominent New York Visitors

Mr. and Mrs. Alexander McLanahan, of New York, who are the guests of their mother, Mrs. Fort Land, at her home on Park lane. Mr. and Mrs. McLanahan were among the vast throng witnessing the Tech-Georgia football game Saturday, the above photograph being taken as they journeyed to Grant field. Mrs. McLanahan was formerly Miss Frances Gurr, of Macon, and her return to Atlanta and Macon are occasions for innumerable social gaieties at which she is honor guest. These interesting visitors occupy a prominent place in New York society, Mrs. McLanahan being a popular member of the Junior League in the Metropolis. Photograph by George Cornett, staff photographer.

WOMEN'S MEETINGS

MONDAY, DECEMBER 8.

Uncle Remus Memorial Association.
The annual meeting of the Uncle Remus program at 3:30 o'clock, at the Atlanta Woman's Club, with Mrs. H. G. Hastings, vice president of the Uncle Remus Memorial Association, presiding.

Executive committee of Woman's Auxiliary of the Central Presbyterian church meets this afternoon at 3 o'clock at the church.

Boulevard Park Woman's Club meets at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. H. M. Williams, 735 Elmwood drive, N. E.

Bhakti Court No. 25, Ladies Oriental Shrine of North America, meets this evening at 7:30 o'clock in the temple room, Red Men's wigwam, 160 Central avenue.

Church School Service League of All Saints' church meets at 3 o'clock in the parish house.

Business Women's Chapter meets in All Saints' parish house this evening at 7:30 o'clock.

St. Mary's Guild of St. Philip's cathedral meets at the home of Mrs. St. Elmo Massengale, 55 Muscogee avenue, at 3 o'clock.

Circles of Jackson Hill W. M. S. meet at the church at 3 o'clock for the business meeting and Bible study.

St. Catherine's Guild of St. Luke's church meets at 3 o'clock at the home of Mrs. H. F. Hoyt, 24 Camden road.

Rev. Alton Glascoe, of the Columbian Theological Seminary, will be guest speaker at the Y. W. C. A. residence vesper at 6:45 o'clock.

Pre-school section of the Samuel R. Young school and George F. Longino School P. T. A. meets at 2:30 o'clock in the Samuel R. Young school building.

Spanish Circle Meets.
El Circulo Espanol meets Wednesday, December 17, at 3 o'clock, featuring a religious note, Christmas carols to be sung in Spanish, and each member will have the privilege of taking a friend. The circle met recently in the Studio Arts building, and members responded to roll call with Spanish quotations. Mrs. J. C. Vallebona, program chairman, presented Miss Gladys Vallebona in piano solos, including "Spanish Dance," by Moszkowski, and "Nocturne," by Chopin. Mrs. Vallebona read an amusing story, "La Cesta de Coles," by Eusebio Blasco. Enrique de Montis gave a recitation, called "Medieval," and sang, "Las Golondrinas." "Sus besos fueren mios," and "Mao a mano," accompanying himself on the guitar. Mrs. Charles Hoke called attention to entertaining, as well as helpful, lessons in Spanish being broadcast recurrently from Dallas, Texas, gave Alfred C. Wilson extended to the circle invitation to view an exhibit of Oriental prints, tapestries and many other interesting objects of art, which she is putting on December 15 to 31.

Captain Sir Hubert Wilkins
Lectures Here Wednesday, Dec. 10

Captain Sir Hubert Wilkins, English explorer, scientist and author, will be presented by the Fine Arts Club Wednesday afternoon, December 10, at 3 o'clock in Atlanta Woman's Club auditorium. He will give his personal narrative "Flying to the Ends of the Earth," illustrated by motion pictures.

Sir Hubert Wilkins recently returned from his fourth Antarctic expedition, and began making plans for his submarine expedition under the polar ice from Spitzbergen to Alaska, which will require a year's preparation. Besides having spent three years with Stefansson, on his great expedition from 1913 to 1918, he spent three more years in Arctic exploration work, which culminated in the flight from Point Barrow, Alaska, to Spitzbergen, in April, 1925, the flight that Amundsen declared to be the greatest air-plane flight of history. Wilkins was one of the passengers aboard the Graf Zeppelin on its trip around the world in 1929.

Members are to attend and encourage their boys and girls of school age to attend. As this is an open meeting, members are urged to bring membership cards to show at the door, and the price for non-members will be $1.

Tau Beta Phi Dance.
Eta chapter of Tau Beta Phi sorority entertains at a dance Tuesday, December 16, at Peachtree and Third streets, arrangements having been made at the recent meeting held at the Blue Boar. Miss Nell Oxford and Mrs. G. Howard, Jr., told the sorority of the Thanksgiving baskets delivered to families.

The officers of the sorority are: Miss Mary Shaw, president; Miss Nell Oxford, recording secretary; Mrs. Lowry S. Holden, corresponding secretary; Miss Virginia Wilson, treasurer; Miss Aline Seton, chairman of welfare committee. The other members are: Misses Opal Crockett, Elizabeth Kilpatrick, Thelma Firestone, Mesdames J. W. Clayton III, Gus Howard, Jr., Miss Evelyn Wheeler, Miss Ida Rogers, Miss Sarah Stamps, Mesdames J. W. Clayton and Gus Howard, Jr., Miss Marie Baker is a pledge to the sorority.

Phi Delta Kappa Dance.
Georgia Alpha Chapter of the Phi Delta Kappa fraternity, gave an informal dance Friday evening at the chapter house on Memorial drive, and among those present were: Misses Frances Haven, Betty Reel, Christine Tomlinson, Elizabeth Kilpatrick, Eleanor May, Opal Crockett, Mildred Hall, Daisy Lovette, Frankie Wade, Marie Baker, Sara Brookshire, Idella Rogers and Evelyn Pounds; Robert C. Black, Elmo Birdsong, Jr., Frank Hend, Herbert F. Lee, William Tunnell, Charles Stubblebine, Kenneth D. Cooper, Phil Reed, C. A. McClurg, Fred Hagau, Frank N. Seton, A. McPherson, Lonnie Sigman, Bert Ham-dell, Phil Peebles, Joe Dobbs, Jack Bagwell, Tom Willard, George Middleton, Lonnie Sigman, Tom Kubanks, Ralph H. Allen, William MacCary, Horace Smith, Mr. and Mrs. James M. Moore, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Bayley, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Embury, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Vittetow and others.

Junior Chamber
Plans Dance
On December 23

Atlanta Junior Chamber of Commerce will give its annual Christmas dance Tuesday evening, December 23, in the ballroom of the Biltmore hotel from 9:30 to 1 o'clock. Receipts of the dance will be applied to the Junior Chamber's annual Christmas tree for 75 of Atlanta's needy children, which will be held the previous Sunday at the Atlanta Woman's Club.

Noxelles and favors will be presented the guests, and the committee in charge of the dance includes R. Frank Hill, chairman; Joe W. Ray and George Yancey. Invitations may be obtained by calling the secretary at Walnut 0846.

Miss Allen's Portrait.
The portrait of Miss Willette Allen, recently done by Miss Kate Edwards, will be on display at the High Museum of Art, December 8, 9 and 10. Miss Allen is widely known as a pioneer in the kindergarten movement in the south. It was through the interest of the membership of the Kindergarten Alumnae Club that the portrait was painted. It will be presented to Emory University at a later date.

Atlanta Chapter O.E.S.
Atlanta Chapter, No. 57, O. E. S., meets Friday, December 12, at 7:30 o'clock at Joseph C. Greenfield lodge, on Moreland avenue, and election of officers will be held.

SOCIETY EVENTS

MONDAY, DECEMBER 8.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Yancey and Mrs. Robert Quinn will entertain at a buffet supper at the Yancey home on Sixteenth street, honoring Miss Mary Ruden, of Washington, D. C., the guest of Misses Marion and Lucy Yandt.

Princess Der Ling, noted Chinese author and lecturer, will speak at 8:30 o'clock this evening at Agnes Scott College on the subject "At the Manchou Court."

WALL PAPER
Will Modernize Your Home

Let Us Quote on Completed Job

J. R. STEELE

Manager Wall Paper Dept.

HUGH SHANNON

12 N. Forsyth WAL. 3226

666

Is a doctor's Prescription for COLDS and HEADACHES
It is the most speedy remedy known
666 also in Tablets

Special Christmas Offer!

Here at Sterchi's you will find many beautiful gifts which are useful and appropriate for every one on your list. Gifts of furniture will last a lifetime. Furniture prices at our store are lower than 15 years. Let us arrange credit terms most convenient to you.

USEFUL GIFTS—

SPINET DESKS $22.50 TO $85
SEWING CABINETS $3.95 TO $25
MAGAZINE BASKETS $1.49 TO $5.00
SMOKING STANDS $2.95 TO $50
OCCASIONAL TABLES $5.00 TO $65
SECRETARIES $34.50 TO $165
COFFEE TABLES $10.50 TO $65
BABY HIGH CHAIRS $2.95 TO $5.95
CEDAR CHESTS $6.50 TO $75
ONE GROUP OF CHAIRS $19.50

These Are $40 and $50 Values
One Group of Lamps at Half Price

Freight Prepaid Anywhere Within the State of Georgia

STERCHI'S

142-150 MITCHELL ST., S. W. ATLANTA 769 MARIETTA ST., N. W.

ATHENS MACON BAINBRIDGE THOMASTON DALTON ROME GAINESVILLE EAST POINT

RADIOS

Majestic
$79.50 to $292.50 Complete

Victor
$142.50 to $329.00 Complete

Viking
$79.50

SPECIAL

One old model Victor combination. Original $175.00 price, $320, now

TWO DEMONSTRATOR ATWATER KENT SCREEN GRID RADIOS

Original price, $142.50, now $90.00

Original price, $146.50, now $110.00

GUARANTEED—EASY TERMS

29-PIECE TEA SET

Imported art pottery. Decorated. 8 cups and saucers, 8 plates, tea pot, sugar and cream.

DINNER SETS
Decorated English Ware
40-Piece Sets $7.50
75-Piece Sets $10.00
100-Piece Sets $16.50

English Lounging Chair

The very thing for Father's Gift.

$29.50

Special END TABLES

Mahogany Finish

64c

Special CARD TABLES

All Colors

69c

These Are $40 and $50 Values
One Group of Lamps at Half Price

Freight Prepaid Anywhere Within the State of Georgia

STERCHI'S

142-150 MITCHELL ST., S. W. ATLANTA 769 MARIETTA ST., N. W.

ATHENS MACON BAINBRIDGE THOMASTON DALTON ROME GAINESVILLE EAST POINT

OPEN AN ACCOUNT HERE

BUY ON EASY TERMS

The Other Bullet

By Nancy Barr Mauley

INSTALLMENT XIII.

Aline dragged her hands away from her face. Again, and again, and again she must lift herself from that pit of uttermost weariness, and force her exhausted mind to meet the future that was the past, the past that had hurled her to this present.

"I didn't. The first shot went wild. It didn't hit anything at all."

"What do you mean—it didn't hit anything at all?"

"Just that. It went through the open window."

"Then who did fire that other shot?"

"I don't know. And after all, I killed him, so what does it matter?"

"It matters everything in the world," Peter shouted. "If somebody else didn't kill Mortimer, somebody else made a mighty good stab at it. Either one of the wounds was sufficient to cause death. For the matter of that, I don't see how you can be sure that your first bullet didn't hit him. You could hardly see into the room, you said."

"I don't know why I'm so sure. But the pistol was waving wildly in my hand, and I have a distinct impression that the shot went wild."

"I don't suppose you happened to notice where the first shot dropped?"

"No—Yes, I do! I heard the click as it dropped on a stone at my feet; then it bounced and rolled off into the grass."

Peter glanced at her keenly. Was it possible that the shell that dropped as she stood outside the door on the spur of the moment? But what could be the motive in such an invention, when she had already admitted that her second shot had struck Mortimer?

"I found two identical .45 shells on the floor of the room," he said meditatively. "But, my Jimmy, if you're right, they may not be so identical as they look."

"I still don't see—"

"Why, it's as plain as the nose on your face! If someone else shot Mortimer after you did, the only thing for you to do is to stick to your original story and put up a defense of temporary insanity—or maybe we can work up some sort of self-defense angle. But with the jury you'll have here, it'll be a pretty tough proposition."

Aline Everett shook her head.

"No," she said. "I'm telling one big lie, and that's for Max. It's enough. I won't do it. I don't want to be insane, and it wasn't self-defense."

"But don't you see, it all hinges on which of those shots was fired first? If one of them came from another pistol than yours, Kurtner can find it out, and can tell which shot came from your gun, even if they both look as alike as two peas. In that case it's possible that you didn't kill him at all—that he was already dead when you got there."

"You mean—that perhaps—I didn't do it?" The words came gasping, incredulous.

"I mean that I've got to get busy and work on that other bullet. Something tells me—"

But Aline had slumped limply and silently to the floor.

Bossy, the beloved and docile under Peter's accustomed hands, behaved as if she were possessed of a particular and lively devil. Barbara's eyes smarted from dust, and her wrists ached with the effort of ranking the recalcitrant car around an endless series of half-pin curves. The wheels bounced sideways across the stiff turf, jolting Barbara's hair forward across her eyes, but she dared not take her cramped hands from the wheel to thrust it back.

Sheer cynicism dropped away from the road at the right. Despite her effort to fix her eyes on the road, Barbara's gaze darted for brief instants over the edge. So steep was the declivity that almost at the road's margin she was looking down on treetops, where the mistletoe hung in thick clumps like giant birch nests. With a gasp she realized the car had veered in the direction of her glance, and she wrenched it around. A clod of earth crumbled under the rear wheel and fell with a heavy thud among the trees below.

With a sharp sigh of relief she caught a glimpse of huddled buildings ahead, where the road widened. Then, as she slowed down in expectation of the town, the tears started behind her eyelids and she caught her breath in a sob of disappointment. It was not the town, after all—only a deserted mining camp, an abandoned relic of the boom days of the California Mother Lode. The brick walls were roofless shells, the mortar had fallen from between the stones. Windows, set deep in 12-inch walls of crumbling brick and stone, were covered with rusted iron shutters. Barbara did not share Peter's habit of easy profanity, but as she paused for a moment before the almost obliterated wooden sign, on which the words, "Post Office," were still faintly discernible, she swore gently and fervently.

"Damn," said Barbara. "Oh, damn!"

There was more of that good to face—more of it, and it was already interminable. She wondered if she could be lost—but there had been no crossroads where she could possibly have taken by mistake. She glanced at the speedometer, and found that she had come just seven miles. She lunged to stop before the flapping sign marked "Post Office"—to sit there without budging until someone came for her. But the sheets of Peter's story crashed in her coat pocket.

"You devil," she addressed Bossy malevolently, "try and act human, just for once, will you?"

A gurgle of steam from the boiling radiator hinted a mocking answer. If Bossy had a nose somewhere in her mechanism, Barbara was quite certain that the bumpy little car was thumping it in her coat pocket.

It was half a mile farther on—the horn, which Barbara had honked warningly at each narrow curve, croaked a hoarse howl. She jammed the button fiercely and futilely. And around the next turn something was coming! Something—but it couldn't be what it looked like! A grinding of gears, Barbara forced the car into second, and crept cautiously around the corner. The road in front of her was a heaving mass of grayish-white, surmounted by whirling clouds of dust. Pouring thickly down the hillside, across the road, picking their way with tiny sure feet down the farther slope they came, sharp hoofs dislodging a cascade of rattling stones. Bodies pressed close together—sheep!

Barbara, stabbing frantically at the useless horn, shouted in the most authoritative tones at her command. What did you say to sheep, anyway?

"Scat!"

But "scat" was evidently a word foreign to the sheep language. "Shoo!" she tried again. "Get out of the way! Shoo! Shoo!"

A few of the nearest blunt-nosed, stupid heads were lifted momentarily. A few of the bodies shifted and crowded in front of the radiator, but their places were immediately taken by others. Barbara forced her way forward a few inches, and gave it up.

"I wish they were cows!" she exclaimed. "Then at least if two or three of them got out of the way at once, it would make a hole."

She could no longer force her eyes to remain open in the dust. Tears pressed from beneath her irritated eyelids and tracked her grimy cheeks. She contrived to push forward another few inches—then her engine stalled.

"Damn!" Barbara said again. And what her language lacked in variety it made up in fervor. "Damn, damn, damn!"

"Ma'am?"

Barbara started violently at the sound of a voice close beside her. For a wild moment it seemed that those infernal sheep had found human voice. Then, wiping her smarting eyes with her handkerchief, she peered through the dust and discerned a swarthy, black-haired figure.

"Oh!! Barbara cried in relief, "do you belong to these sheep?"

"Yes, ma'am."

(Continued Tomorrow.)

Barbara started violently at the sound of a voice close beside her. For a wild moment it seemed that those infernal sheep had found human voice. Then, wiping her smarting eyes with her handkerchief, she peered through the dust and discerned a swarthy, black-haired figure.

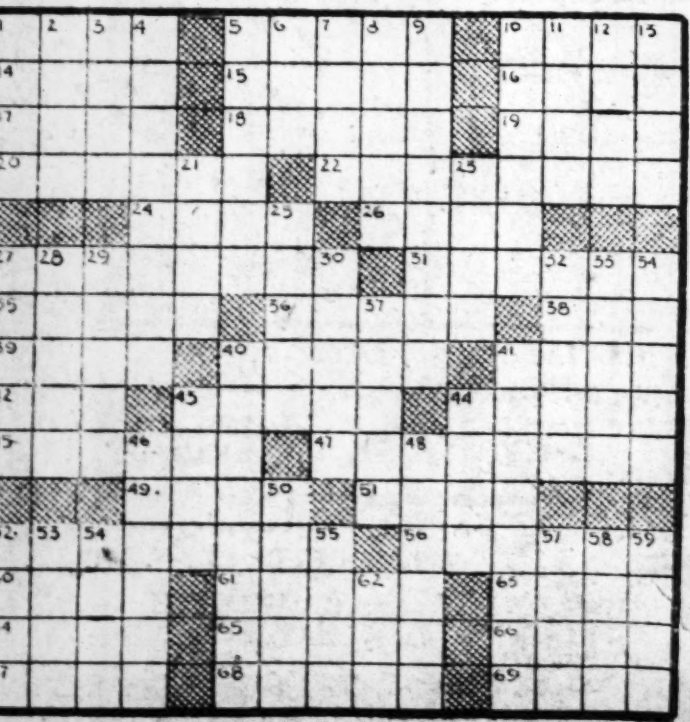

"Oh!! Barbara cried in relief, "do you belong to these sheep?"

"Yes, ma'am."

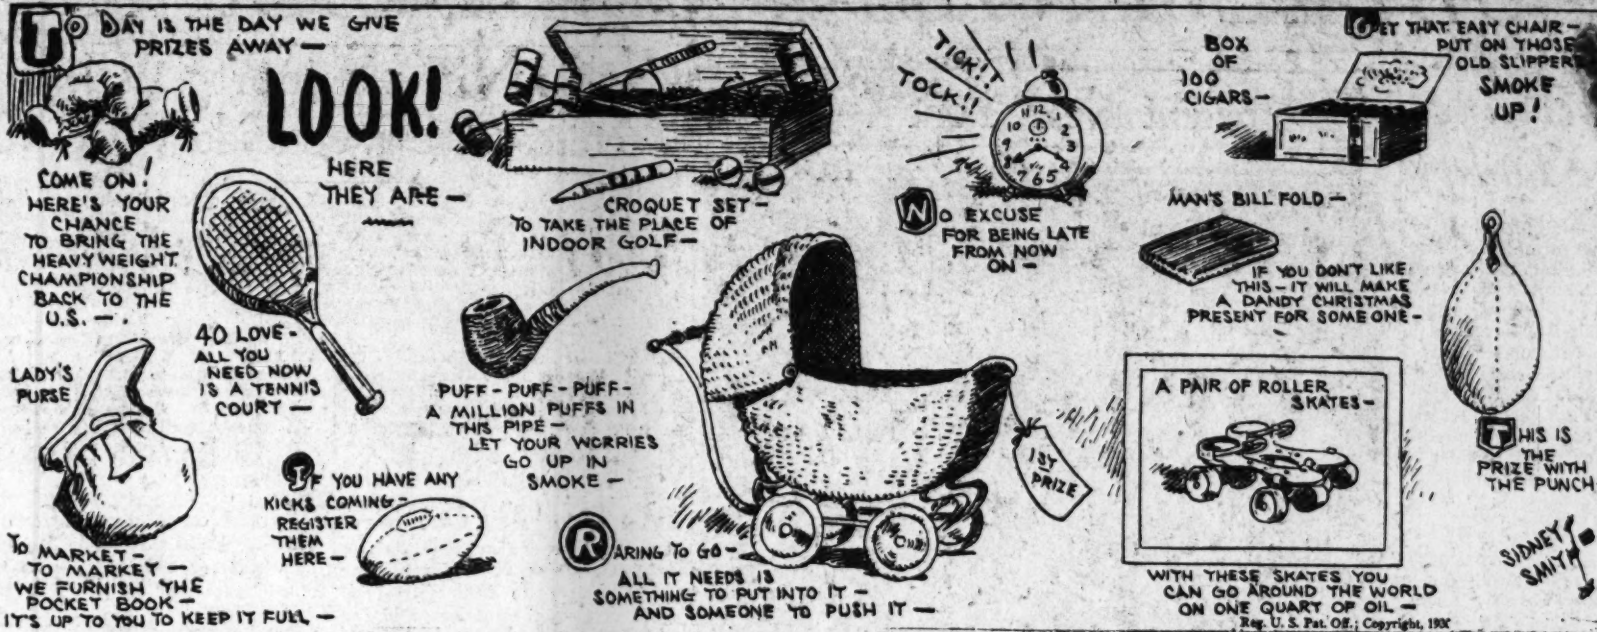

(Continued Tomorrow.)

Today's Cross-Word Puzzle

- ACROSS.
- 1 Target.
 - 5 Historic Texas church.
 - 10 Young horse.
 - 14 Concave and convex molding.
 - 15 A cigar.
 - 16 Wind instrument.
 - 17 Art.
 - 18 Rear of boat.
 - 19 East Indian musical instrument.
 - 20 Bronze or copper gilt.
 - 22 Wildcat.
 - 24 Positive.
 - 26 Title among Turks.
 - 27 Profoundly respectful.
 - 31 To allure.
 - 33 Sole.
 - 36 Planetary position denoting three.
 - 38 Wand.
 - 39 Solitary.
 - 40 One who believes in existence of God, but disbelieves revealed religion.
 - 41 A paroxysm of pain.
 - 42 Chicken produce.
 - 43 Parents.
 - 44 Type of seat: var.
 - 45 Responds to stimulus.
 - 47 To subdue.
 - 48 Resinous substances.
 - 51 Man's name.
 - 52 Excluded.
 - 56 To make possible.
 - 60 Root.
 - 61 To run away clandestinely.
 - 62 Church seat.
 - 63 Walled.
 - 64 Egyptian river.
 - 65 Corroded.
 - 66 A sea eagle.
 - 67 Retention mark in text revision.
 - 68 Sineus.
 - 69 Discarded.
 - DOWN.
 - 1 Philippine Islander.
 - 2 One that ages.
 - 3 To bore out.
 - 4 Fuel oil.
 - 5 To make certain.
 - 6 Permit.
 - 7 Became old.
 - 8 Fem. name.
 - 9 Article for embroidery.
 - 10 Concealed.
 - 11 Funeral rite.
 - 12 Unrequited.
 - 13 Reud.
 - 21 Bait.
 - 23 Dig below the surface of the earth.
 - 25 To come in.
 - 27 One who demolishes.
 - 28 Funeral oration.
 - 29 River in Russia.
 - 30 Attempts.
 - 32 Vesel.
 - 33 Conical shapes.
 - 34 Margins.
 - 37 Image.
 - 40 Prudent.
 - 41 Dress fabrics.
 - 42 A luminary.
 - 43 Make thread.
 - 44 Kind of wine.
 - 48 Trim the feathers.
 - 50 Bible word of unknown meaning.
 - 52 Put on.
 - 53 Revise.
 - 54 Tree trunk.
 - 55 To be found.
 - 57 Uncovered.
 - 58 Stripe.
 - 59 Famous garden.

THE GUMPS—AWARDING THE PRIZES

THE WINNERS.

THE BABY CARRIAGE AND ROLLER SKATES GO TO
F. KING—2331 VICTORIA AVE., REGINA, SASK. CANADA
FOR THE NEATEST CORRECT SOLUTION OF HOW THE SAFE CONTAINING THE GREAT MOULD DIAMOND WAS STOLEN FROM BILLY'S ROOM—

- FOLLOWING ARE THE WINNERS OF PRIZES—
WHO SENT IN THE NEATEST CORRECT SOLUTION AS TO WHO THE ONE-LEGGED MAN IS WITH THE RIGHT FOOT—
- | | |
|---|--|
| 1 BOX OF CIGARS—
RICHARD O. ENSMINGER
BOX 85—SUFFIELD—OHIO | 2 HOWARD V. FRANCE
54 ALLER AVE.
MURRAY—UTAH |
| 3 CROQUET SET—
JOHANNETTE KASTNER
668 SO. CORNA ST.
DENVER—COLORADO | 4 PUNCHING BAG—
MORRIS C. NEBEL
712 W. HICKORY ST.
SANTA BARBARA—CALIF. |
| 5 TENNIS RACKET—
MISS FRIDA LEVIN
2812 GRAND CENTRAL TERMINAL
NEW YORK CITY—N.Y. | 6 FOOT BALL—
NOEL DICE
KELLER, WASH. |
| 7 LADY'S PURSE—
MARY HANUS
933 N. RIDGEWAY AVE.
CHICAGO, ILL. | 8 BOXING GLOVES—
CLYDE HELMS, JR.
LA BELLE
BOX 235
FLORIDA |
| 9 MAN'S BILL FOLD—
RAYMOND DIEGLIE
ULEN—MINN. | 10 ALARM CLOCK—
ANNIE DRAPELA
1402 INDIAN
HOUSTON—TEXAS |

MOON MULLINS—A BIG BUSINESS OPPORTUNITY LOST

WINNIE WINKLE, THE BREADWINNER: Easy Come, Easy Go

GASOLINE ALLEY—GOING UP

Ed Danforth, Sports Editor
Ralph McGill
Clarence Nixon
Herb Clark
Walter P. Wilkes
Roy E. White

SPORTS SECTION

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION

TWO PAGES

ATLANTA, GA., MONDAY MORNING, DECEMBER 8, 1930.

Grantland Rice
W. O. McGeehan
Dan McGugin
Howard Jones
Bill Roper
Bob Zupke

PAGE ELEVEN

Clash With Madison Awaits Victor in Today's Smithy-Cadet Tilt

ALABAMA HOLDS STAGE AS GRIDMEN CLOSE

It was with a sense of peace and good will toward one and all that I awoke yesterday morning.

The football season was over, save for an expedition to California of which more later.

Georgia had climbed back out of the shadows of two successive defeats to sparkle in all her October effulgence and justify before a gallery of home folks the extravagant things that had been said of her seven weeks ago.

Georgia Tech had played far beyond expectations in limiting a stronger opponent to two touchdowns and exemplifying what a potentially weak team can do when under the desperate urge of inspiration.

So with the campaigns of our two neighboring football camps closed out in such a manner as to leave a good taste on every palate and no apologies needed from either side, I felt strangely elated.

IN THE BEST REGULATED FAMILIES.

Bounding from the old couch I made a brilliant broken living room dash for the front door to grab the morning paper. The morning paper I felt had covered the game and itself with credit due to the able observation and composition of Messrs. Ralph McGill, Zipp Newman, Al Smith, and others, including the first person singular.

Turning immediately to the article written by my favorite author I scanned it hastily, confidently.

After doing the first three hundred words in 10.2 seconds I screamed. It was the cry of a wounded reporter, the most pitiable wail in the anthology of articulate grief.

There in the middle of the thrilling story of the game, just as the writer was getting warmed up about Austin Downes was a chunk of type from the detail of play that had been dictated for the earlier editions and supposedly "killed." In some way probably unknown even to the efficient composing room this handful of type had strayed over into the middle of what might have been a great piece of descriptive writing.

It was a blow from which the writer may never recover. Perhaps he is the only one of the 100,000-odd subscribers to The Constitution who noticed it but that is no balm to the wound. So for the next few days the material in this corner is vicious, cynical, sarcastic and biting, read with charity and understand it is just the writing of a broken man.

GOOD WORK, HARRY.

Harry Mehre, head coach of Georgia, completed his season at Georgia with a masterpiece of coaching. He helped his boys lift themselves out of a swamp of despondency into which young men fall when a season that begins as a triumphal march suddenly is brought to a jarring halt by two defeats in a row.

Coach Mehre also must have mapped out a plan of attack that concentrated the jolting rushes of Dickens and Roberts on the middle of Tech's line, leaving the strong ends and tackles alone.

In the face of the 6-2-2-1 defense that the Yellow Jackets set up, Georgia's pass attack necessarily was limited to close shots and that his quarterback made such intelligent use of his weapons reflects some credit on his adviser.

FLYING TRIP IS RIGHT.

Coach W. A. Alexander was in the air Sunday flying on the first leg of what they say is the first air-rail-air passenger trip from Atlanta to Los Angeles.

He will arrive in Los Angeles at Alhambra airport this afternoon at 3:40 o'clock, having made a night ride from Dallas to Amarillo by rail. He will return by the same two-day-one-night system to arrive here at 4:25 p. m. Wednesday. Imagine that!

This service may be exploited later by the railroad and air transportation companies for the Rose Bowl game. The fare is less than $300 for the round trip.

MORE GOOD WORK.

Coach Alexander's feat of pulling his team of sophomores and seniors together after a season of disappointments and giving them a style of defense and a slightly altered offense sufficient to make a fine showing against Georgia is one of the best bits of work he has ever done at the Flats.

It compares favorably with Bill Roper's work in bringing a Princeton team from the depths to press Yale clear down to the finish.

With no backs to compare with Downes, Dickens, Mott, Roberts and Chandler in quick starting and in speed with the

CADETS RENEW TECH HIGH FEUD IN SEMI-FINALS

Victor of Postponed Game Will Meet Madison for Zone Title.

By Roy White.

After being rained out Friday afternoon, Tech High and Riverside Military Academy will meet at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon on the Gainesville gridiron in a pre-playoff for the right to meet the Madison Aggies for the northern division title of the G. I. A. A.

The winner of today's game will meet the Aggies for Madison, probably Saturday, for the title. The winner of that game will meet Georgia Military College for the state championship. G. M. C. defeated Savannah, 23 to 7, Saturday afternoon in Savannah in the southern division playoff.

Both Tech High and Riverside welcomed the postponement until today, despite the fact that two games will have to be played this week by the winner. The players were not in the best of condition and all the crimples have been returned to practice and are ready to go the full route if necessary.

It will be a renewal of rivalry between the schools that dates back 15 years and will be the first game between them since the 1927 season.

BIG CROWD.

Gainesville fans are leaving no stone unturned in preparing for a record crowd. The public schools will dismiss after the morning session in order that the students may attend the game. Many of the business houses will close during the game. Members of the Gainesville Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs are behind the movement.

Tech High will send the largest number of players ever to represent the school on a foreign gridiron and will travel to Gainesville in special buses. Approximately 40 players, together with coaches Tolbert, Alexander and Curran, will make the trip. Members of the Tech High band, under the direction of Major Woodward, have chartered two buses to carry them to the game and hundreds of Atlanta's prep fans are expected to be on the sidelines when the game starts.

TWO BANDS.

Riverside's 60-piece band under the direction of Captain G. M. Shorouse, Jr., has prepared a special program of music before the game and during the intermission and will share the time with the Smithy's instruments.

Neither Tech High nor Riverside has had an outstanding season but in their list of victories are included many of the strong teams. Tech High stopped the famous Tusculum High eleven, giving a five-and-one-half-win streak and later won the city championship with a spectacular 24-0 victory over Spauld's.

Riverside defeated Greenbrier, W. Va., 14 to 12, after the West Virginia eleven had completed two undefeated seasons, and three days later held the strong Army Pileas to a 19-0 score.

TOSS-UP GAME.

There is little to choose between the two teams. Riverside will outweight Tech High by several pounds per man but the Smithies have a veteran line to offset the difference in weight. Riverside has two capable backs, while Tech High's strength, with the exception of Bug Boyd, is fairly well distributed.

Both are well coached by veteran leaders. Captain W. H. Davis is in charge of the Cadets, with W. H. Tucker, Jr., William Pletcher and E. J. Curtis as assistants.

Neither Coach Tolbert, of Tech High, nor Dowis, of Riverside, has seen the other team play and consequently no particular preparation has been made to stop any certain set of plays. Both will rely entirely upon their plays which have proven most successful during the season.

THE PROBABLE LINEUPS.

TECH HIGH	POS.	RIVERSIDE	POS.
Hayley	E	Kemp	E
Morris	E	Brass	E
Wick	E	Lucas	E
C. G.	E	Lucas	E
Bloodworth	E	Houston	E
Hansen	E	Tessier	E
Boyd	E	Walsh	E
Street	E	Walsh	E
Hurst	E	Holt	E
Official: Phillips (Tech), Walter (Riverside), umpire: Gardner (Tech), head linesman: Broadnax (Georgia), field judge.

Giants Turn Tables, Beat Dodgers, 13-0

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Reversing a previous decision, the New York Giants defeated the Brooklyn Dodgers 13 to 0, before a crowd of 22,000 at Ebbets field today and retained their hold on second place in the National Football league.

Benny Friedman and Chris Cagle, Giant stars, played only a few minutes in the second period, but their complete efforts brought a New York touchdown. Friedman carried the ball over on an end run and kicked the extra point. The Giants scored again in the last period after a long drive down the field. Moran made the touchdown.

Belden Leads Cards To Win Over Tigers

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Dec. 7.—(UP)—The Chicago Cardinals professional football team defeated the Memphis Tigers 6 to 0 today.

Belden, former St. Mary's star, raced 20 yards off left tackle to score for the Cardinals in the second period. Ernie Nevers, former Stanford back, missed the placement try for extra point.

Jap Hart Gets Away for Four Yards Through Line

Jap Hart, sophomore halfback for the Yellow Jackets, played a good game against Georgia Saturday in the game won by Georgia 13 to 0. Hart is seen starting on a short gain. Ben Cherry, number 81, blocked out Herb Maffett, the number 10 man in the white shirt. Sam Colvin, number 17, is leading the way for Hart through the hole opened by the Tech line. Hart was stopped by the two defensive Georgia backs who may be seen coming up to the line.

STRIB, TUFFY CLASH FRIDAY

Chicago, Staging Bout, Opens War With Garden for Supremacy.

CHICAGO, Dec. 7.—(UP)—Young Stribling and Tuffy Griffiths, rival heavyweight contenders, will meet Friday at Chicago stadium in the opening of a campaign to bring a heavyweight boxing monopoly previously enjoyed by Madison Square Garden of New York and marks the opening of a campaign to bring a heavyweight boxing monopoly previously enjoyed by Madison Square Garden of New York and marks the opening of a campaign to bring a heavyweight boxing monopoly previously enjoyed by Madison Square Garden of New York.

The bout, featuring outstanding aspirants to Max Schmeling's world championship, is a blow to the heavy-weight boxing monopoly previously enjoyed by Madison Square Garden of New York and marks the opening of a campaign to bring a heavyweight boxing monopoly previously enjoyed by Madison Square Garden of New York.

With Stribling and Griffiths already aligned with the Chicago promoters and Heavyweight Champion Max Schmeling reported to be willing to break away from the Garden, Chicago's prospects of taking a hand in heavyweight affairs seem favorable. Schmeling is tied up to the Garden.

Continued on Second Sport Page.

Max Must Meet Stribling or Tuffy

CHICAGO, Dec. 7.—(UP)—Brigadier General John V. Clinch, president of the National Boxing Association, announced today that the world heavyweight boxing championship will be declared vacant if Max Schmeling, present titleholder, does not sign to fight the winner of Friday's bout between Young Stribling and Tuffy Griffiths.

"Under the rules of the New York commission, which is not a member of the N. B. A., the championship automatically is vacated if Schmeling doesn't sign before December 12," said Clinch.

"The N. B. A. does not care to take such an arbitrary stand. In the eyes of the association and affiliated state and foreign commissions Schmeling will continue as champion until he has declined to fight the winner of the Stribling-Griffiths fight. But he'll have to accept or decline within a few days after the winner is determined."

Continued on Second Sport Page.

Bulldog-Jacket Game Saw Unique Features

Lethal Pass Attack and Great Defensive Play By Ends Stood Out.

By Ralph McGill.

Saturday's football engagement at Grant field, which saw the Georgia Bulldogs win over the Georgia Tech Jackets, 13 to 0, contained two very unusual features.

The forward pass attack was the most lethal one seen this season on Grant field, perhaps the most lethal in the field's history. And the yardage gained around the ends on wide plays was almost negligible. In fact, yardage gains outside the tackles was quite small indeed.

Georgia tried two forward passes, completing one for a touchdown. Another put the ball at a point near the goal line, from which point the ice-cold Austin Downes took it over for a touchdown.

Georgia Tech essayed three air plays. One was intercepted by the alert Spurgeon Chandler. Two others were completed for a total of 46 yards as the Jackets moved forward on a march which went almost to the goal line.

Those forward passes gave the two teams an average of .800 as the ball fans would figure it. The air game Saturday was ideally used. There was no wild and desperate throwing of passes in futile effort to score. Each team chose its passes smartly and worked them with a maximum of skill.

"CATFISH" SMITH.

The game stamped "Catfish" Smith once again as the ideal pass receiver. He was twice called on to work himself free when the opportunities to do so were lessened by the fact that his receiving territory was restricted. Each time he was able to work himself into a spot where he could take the ball with what appeared to be comparative ease.

"Catfish" Smith is undoubtedly a great end. He is well balanced on attack and defense and adds to those abilities what amounts to a positive genius for being at the correct spot at the correct time to receive passes.

In a recent edition of the Literary Digest, in the section devoted to questions which the well-informed on current events should be able to answer, there was this question: "Who is 'Catfish' Smith?" And the young man rather deserves the national attention that has been brought to bear upon him.

THE WIDE PLAYS.

Getting around, finally, to the amazing little distance gained around the ends, one finds that the wide plays gained almost nothing at all.

Only Austin Downes, of all Georgia's backs, was able to dash around the Tech ends. On three plays he made 22 yards around the ends.

Other Georgia backs lost 20 yards in vain attempts to go around Tom Jones and Ed Herron, Jacket ends. This gave Georgia a net gain of five yards in circling end runs.

Georgia Tech made fewer efforts to circle the ends. Buck Flowers made eight yards on one wide run but fumbled and

ARMY-NAVY TILT SEEN AS BATTLE

"Weak" Middies Flash Warning to Favored Cadet Squad.

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Charity failed to benefit as much as might have been expected from Saturday's benefit football games in the east. But notice was served on the fans, charitable or otherwise, that they can expect a great battle next Saturday when the Army and Navy meet in New York for their big benefit game.

A Navy team which has had a rather poor season sent out a warning to the "Cadets by smashing" a favored Pennsylvania eleven down to a 26-0 defeat. The Midshipmen showed everything that they seemed to lack before.

Penn. could make only three first downs and gain but 36 yards from scrimmage while Navy made 225 yards and 18 first downs.

Colgate managed to keep its record against eastern rivals untarnished, defeating New York University, 7 to 6, at Yankee stadium. Only about 20,000 fans turned out for this benefit game while rain in Pittsburgh held the attendance down to 5,000 as Carnegie Field romped to a 26-0 victory over Washington and Jefferson in another charity affair.

Another 20,000 fans paid their share for charity as the Marines defeated the Coast Guard, 7 to 0, in the annual game for the president's cup.

Battle for Title Tops Garden Charity Card

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Christopher "Bat" Battalino, of Hartford, Conn., who never has fought in the "Big Town," although he holds the world's featherweight championship, comes to New York this week to risk his title against Elgie Sardinias, of Cuba, the flashy negro boxer who has won fame as "Kid Chocolate."

The title scrap is the main attraction of the annual Christmas fund card at Madison Square Garden Friday night.

Battalino has not met much stiff opposition since he took the featherweight crown from Andre Routis and his performances have been hampered considerably by bad hands, but fans are finding points in his favor. Bud Taylor, no mean fighter himself, has called Battalino the strongest man in his class. The fans, banking on judgments such as this, are reducing the odds which favor Chocolate. Indications are that by Friday the bout will be regarded as an even choice.

COURT MEET CALLED.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Dec. 7.—(AP) A meeting of owners of clubs in the American Basketball league was called tonight to meet here Monday to discuss decreased attendance, new rules and high expenses.

TIDE'S PRACTICE FOR ROSE BOWL ATTRACTS FANS

Finish Written to Turbulent Football Campaign in Saturday Games.

TUSCALOOSA, Ala., Dec. 7.

(P)—Coach Wade announced tonight that practice will be resumed Monday by Alabama's Crimson Tide gridgers in preparation for the Rose Bowl game New Year's Day with Washington State.

The Alabama players have been resting since the Georgia game Thanksgiving Day and Coach Wade said tonight that only light practice sessions will be held for several days. A freshman-reserve team will be given Washington State formations for use against the varsity later in the week.

Tide To Resume Practice Today

Associated Press Sports Writer.

Dixie's turbulent football campaign, which saw all early favorites beaten and two dark horse eleven—Alabama and Tulane—flash ahead, the latter with a percentage tie for the conference crown, has passed into history, but Alabama's preparations for the Rose Bowl game with Washington State will serve to attract gridiron enthusiasts for a while yet.

Neither Tulane, which lost many regulars from the 1929 titular machine, nor Alabama were figured front rank teams as the season began with championship prospects ahead for Tennessee, Georgia, Kentucky, Vanderbilt and Florida. But the Green Wave and the Crimson Tide swept through Dixie with a rush, polling the flag hopes of many teams.

A dozen Dixie teams answered the final call to arms last weekend with Tennessee's 13-0-0 defeat of Florida furnishing the principal excitement.

Buddy Hackman's 50-yard touchdown run in the closing minutes after intercepting a Florida pass enabled Tennessee to break a 6-6 deadlock and close their season with a win. The Vols scored in the second as Dodd caught a pass from Hackman, but Florida matched this the next quarter with a long touchdown toss from Rogers to Parnell.

GREAT LINE.

It was the final game for 12 Tennessee seniors who had lost but one game in four years of college competition. Tennessee's line shared honors with the brilliant Hackman and Dodd as the best of the year and several occasions near touchdown territory, once for four downs on the 1-yard line.

Georgia won its annual game with Georgia Tech but not until after a terrific battle which found the Golden Tornado playing its best ball of the year and finding the favored Bulldogs through nearly two periods.

Georgia triumphed, 13 to 0, one touchdown coming just before the intermission and another midway of the final quarter. Tech made a valiant 65-yard drive near the finish which collapsed just short of a score.

North Carolina and Duke played to a scoreless tie on a Chapel Hill gridiron resembling a quagmire. The wet condition of the field slowed up the ball carriers of both teams and ruined all scoring chances. It was Duke's last game under Coach Jimmy

Continued on Second Sport Page.

Standings

CONFERENCE.
TEAM	W.	L.	T.	Op.
Tulane	5	0	1,000	382
Tennessee	5	1	885	347
Georgia	4	1	885	347
Vanderbilt	3	2	714	245
Marshall	3	2	687	213
Florida	4	2	687	213
Ark. & L.	3	2	600	180
Georgia Tech	3	2	600	180
Kentucky	3	2	600	180
Alabama	3	2	600	180
Miss. & S.	3	2	600	180
Ark. & L.	3	2	600	180
Georgia Tech	3	2	600	180
Kentucky	3	2	600	180
Alabama	3	2	600	180
Miss. & S.	3	2	600	180
Ark. & L.	3	2	600	180
Georgia Tech	3	2	600	180
Kentucky	3	2	600	180
Alabama	3	2	600	180
Miss. & S.	3	2	600	180
Ark. & L.	3	2	600	180
Georgia Tech	3	2	600	180
Kentucky	3	2	600	180
Alabama	3	2	600	180
Miss. & S.	3	2	600	180
Ark. & L.	3	2	600	180
Georgia Tech	3	2	600	180
Kentucky	3	2	600	180
Alabama	3	2	600	180
Miss. & S.	3	2	600	180
Ark. & L.	3	2	600	180
Georgia Tech	3	2	600	180
Kentucky	3	2	600	180
Alabama	3	2	600	180
Miss. & S.	3	2	600	180
Ark. & L.	3	2	600	180
Georgia Tech	3	2	600	180
Kentucky	3	2	600	180
Alabama	3	2	600	180
Miss. & S.	3	2	600	180
Ark. & L.	3	2	600	180
Georgia Tech	3	2	600	180
Kentucky	3	2	600	180
Alabama	3	2	600	180
Miss. & S.	3	2	600	180
Ark. & L.	3	2	600	180
Georgia Tech	3	2	600	180
Kentucky	3	2	600	180
Alabama	3	2	600	180
Miss. & S.	3	2	600	180
Ark. & L.	3	2	600	180
Georgia Tech	3	2	600	180
Kentucky	3	2	600	180
Alabama	3	2	600	180
Miss. & S.	3	2	600	180
Ark. & L.	3	2	600	180
Georgia Tech	3	2	600	180
Kentucky	3	2	600	180
Alabama	3	2	600	180
Miss. & S.	3	2	600	180
Ark. & L.	3	2	600	180
Georgia Tech	3	2	600	180
Kentucky	3	2	600	180
Alabama	3	2	600	180
Miss. & S.	3	2	600	180
Ark. & L.	3	2	600	180
Georgia Tech	3	2	600	180
Kentucky	3	2	600	180
Alabama	3	2	600	180
Miss. & S.	3	2	600	180
Ark. & L.	3	2	600	180
Georgia Tech	3	2	600	180
Kentucky	3	2	600	180
Alabama	3	2	600	180
Miss. & S.	3	2	600	180
Ark. & L.	3	2	600	180
Georgia Tech	3	2	600	180
Kentucky	3	2	600	180
Alabama	3	2	600	180
Miss. & S.	3	2	600	180
Ark. & L.	3	2	600	180
Georgia Tech	3	2	600	180
Kentucky	3	2	600	180
Alabama	3	2	600	180
Miss. & S.	3	2	600	180
Ark. & L.	3	2	600	180
Georgia Tech	3	2	600	180
Kentucky	3	2	600	180
Alabama	3	2	600	180
Miss. & S.	3	2	600	180
Ark. & L.	3	2	600	180
Georgia Tech	3	2	600	180
Kentucky	3	2	600	180
Alabama	3	2	600	180
Miss. & S.	3	2	600	180
Ark. & L.	3	2	600	180
Georgia Tech	3	2	600	1

Major League Heads Gather in New York for Annual Conference

DRAFT 'HUDDLE' PLANNED TODAY BY COMMITTEE

Old Muddle May Be Settled in Informal Discussion.

By Herbert W. Barker, Associated Press Sports Writer.

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—(AP)—The major league "fallen arch brigade" poured into New York today to begin its annual attempt to sell a baseball player and get a baseball team in return.

Gathered here for the winter meetings of the National and American leagues, club owners and managers stood around the lobby of the Hotel Commodore and engaged in endless conversations designed to discover a second baseman who can hit, an outfielder who can field or a pitcher who can put the ball where he wants it.

"ONE-UP."

Some of the boys, such as Dan Howley of the Cincinnati Reds; Rogers Hornsby of the Chicago Cubs; and Donie Bush of the Chicago White Sox, were one up on the others. They just spent a week attending to what they called a "one-up" conference at Montreal. With this week of preparation behind them they felt they were in better shape both to talk and to stand.

There were few signs of any definite trading attempts today. Hornsby seemed to sound the keynote when he said the Cubs were prepared to stand pat on their present lineup but that, like anyone else, would be interested should good talent be offered for a reasonable consideration whether in cash or players. "The Rajah" is not worrying about one position on his infield. He intends to play second base himself.

Swelling the crowd was a number of minor league club owners and managers who spent a fruitless week in Montreal trying to dispose of some of their star playing talent.

DRAFT STILL BAR.

If the majors and the non-draft leagues manage to come to an agreement on the draft question, some of these sales undoubtedly will go through. Until then, however, the majors have declined to have any dealings with the non-draft circuits.

No official business will be transacted by either major league until Tuesday when the National league meets. On Wednesday the American league goes into their annual convalescence and the two leagues meet in joint session Thursday.

Ducks Are Plentiful, But Fly Out of Range

THOMASVILLE, Ga., Dec. 7.—Duck hunters who frequent the three big fresh water lakes, Iamonia, Micoucouche and Jackson, some 20 miles south of Thomasville, report the ducks more numerous than they have known in a number of years, but are flying unusually high and out of gun range. As a result bags of late have been well-filled.

FOX EXCLUSIVE! Special Newsreel Famous Annual TECH-GEORGIA FOOTBALL CLASH WITH THAT ROLLING ROME OF 1935 "JUST IMAGINE" A Bigger Screen Than "Daddy Side Up" FANCHON & MARCO'S $50,000 SHOW "ROSE GARDEN" JUNIOR FEATURES FOX

THE SPORTLIGHT By Krautman Rice

THE RECORD TEAM.

WHETHER or not this 1935 Notre Dame team is the best in football history, it has at least put through one of the all-time records for one campaign. To win nine football games through November, lose such football players as Savoldi and Mullins, to take the pounding it took from Northwestern and the Army and then smash such a team as Southern California, 27 to 0, is about all that one could ask from a team not mounted on motorcycles and armed with machine guns.

The majority of coaches gathered in Philadelphia for the Navy-Philadelphia game felt sure that Southern California would win. Not because Southern California had a better football team than Notre Dame, but because they figured it was almost impossible for Notre Dame to be even near its best after such a season, with Savoldi and Mullins missing.

These coaches had seen many strong teams before suddenly fade and fall after too many hard games in a row, but this 1935 Notre Dame team was another type. They were neither faded nor fall in its system. It was made up of the finest blocking talent that ever stepped out on a football field, and when you get as many good blockers together as it had you have about everything.

This 1935 outfit from South Bend had all the ingredients but their four main features were speed and skill, brains and courage. It was a smart team and a game one, with the quality of gameness that moves well beyond the physical side.

I thought the Notre Dame team I saw beat Pennsylvania so badly, with Savoldi playing his last game, was the greatest I ever saw on a field.

But it seemed to be an impossible demand to ask even this team to drive through Northwestern and the Army, lose its two backfield stars, travel to Los Angeles and whip a squad as strong as Southern California's seemed to be.

Especially when Pop Warner was quoted as saying that Southern California is one of the three best teams he has ever seen and when normally good football judges were writing in that Southern California might win by four or five touchdowns. To have Notre Dame win was one thing, but to have her win by 27 points and completely break down the greatest attack was a shock of the decade, as far as the Pacific coast is concerned. It was a mortal thrust.

But at least the pride of the west coast was beaten by a masterpiece, one of the finest works of art that Rockne ever turned out. It was a team in every sense of the word. A team where each man did his job and where one man found it difficult to rise above another. And this team, handled by Carideo, had the final touch.

Notre Dame's march from Southern Methodist on October 4, through Southern California on December 6, was a magnificent adventure, and this team's ability to hurdle all handicaps and finish close to its top form is something that will become a feature chapter in football history.

Football teams and football campaigns will come and go, but it will be a long time before there will be another 1935 Notre Dame team driving its way through such a schedule. For here was a team that made a tough schedule look easy, and that is the final word in class.

THE NAVY ON ITS WAY.

THE ARMY coaching staff that saw the Navy beat Pennsylvania hurried back to West Point with a warning that was by no means false propaganda.

They saw an up and coming squad, a squad that has just found itself, coming on like the wind. When the Army-Navy game was first arranged it looked as if the Navy would be outclassed. Now there is all the evidence any one wants that this will be a battle, one of the closest and one of the hardest of all Army-Navy wars.

The Navy had a smart attack against Pennsylvania, varied and powerful. With Gannon, Kinn and Williams leading most of the charges. After Kinn was injured and taken out, Gannon and Hurley proved to be effective, hard running backs able to carry the ball in consistent marches that were well directed in the last two periods. This was a new Navy team and it will be even better Saturday, a team lifted out of the rut by the thrill of an Army contest.

The Army was only one point away from Notre Dame a week ago in Chicago and that would indicate too much stuff for the Navy to face. Only such indications don't always work out, in football. The Army came close to peaking against Notre Dame and the Navy's peak will be next Saturday when Bill Ingram will bring a team to New York well equipped to play a lot of football and to give the Army a battle all the way.

The Army can only win by being at its best, or at least in the vicinity of its best. Any backfield that has Kinn, Hurley and Gannon to lug the leather can fill any afternoon full of trouble for any rival one might name.

N. Y. U.'s final charge against Colgate is a fair warning for all her rivals to look out for 1931. Colgate had to fight for her life in a game that might just as well have been a tie.

Tennessee also closed out one of the best campaigns of many years in spite of her lone defeat by Alabama.

And one of the best of all football stars closed out a great career when Bobby Dodd threw his final pass against Florida.

Godfrey To Train Macaluso Boosts In Public Here Lead on Scorers

Association, Post No. 1, announced Sunday that George Godfrey, the black man who rules the negro fistic domain today, will arrive in Atlanta well ahead of his scheduled 10-round match with Ed (Beast) Wright, of Omaha, which is to be a sport feature of December 19, in the city auditorium.

Abused Feet Age Fast

THE secret of good feet is... shoes. If your feet tire easily, or bother you at all, we recommend our Arch Preserver Shoe. This is the original and only ARCH PRESERVER shoe. More men wear it than any other arch shoe. Its features are patented, therefore never successfully duplicated.

GEORGE MUSE CLOTHING CO.

Foot Itch

We have a sure remedy for Foot Itch, Athlete's Foot, or what you call it. It is Ringworm, and the term is deep. No ordinary remedy can help it. It can't get down. RING-ROUT gently removes the outer skin, then kills the germs in one minute. Come and try it under our guarantee.

Jacobs' Pharmacy Co. Stores All Over Atlanta

PREP COURTMEN STRIB IS RATED 2-TO-1 FAVORITE FOR BIG SEASON OVER GRIFITHS

Smithies, Purples, Cadets Plan Strong Basketball Cards for Year.

With the abandonment of the city prep league last Thursday night, Boys' High will start its active work with a game Wednesday night in Nelson, Ga., and will follow with another December 19 in Gordon, Ga. Coach Johnston will scrimmage his Hurricane candidates today and Tuesday.

Tech High is progressing slowly, awaiting the end of the Northern vision football play-off when several of the grid players report for duty. A large squad of promising youngsters is expected to arrive under the direction of M. A. Olson.

G. M. A. candidates will start an active practice campaign after the school after the Christmas holidays. The Cadets will not play any practice games until the students return to school after the Christmas holidays.

Chicago Is Scene of Important Heavyweight Clash Friday.

Continued from First Sport Page.

den by a contract which the New York athletic commission forced him to sign before it broke its own rules and approved last summer's trilateral bout between the German and Jack Sharkey. Schmeling's manager contends the contract was signed under duress and will not prevent Max from defending his title when and where he chooses.

Stribling advanced to the front by knocking out Von Port and Phil Scott. He is starting a campaign to eliminate other contenders and has posted forfeits and challenges for Schmeling.

Griffiths has lost prestige through poor showings against second raters, but has defeated all of the good men in the class with whom he has been able to meet. He has refused to meet him. He is rated as a 2-to-1 underdog against Stribling, but can advance to the front by knocking by scoring a decisive victory.

Southern League Batting Averages

Compiled by Charles H. Miller, Memphis, Tenn.

W. Taylor, N. O.	106	383	119	146	13	4	15	10	8	78	22	9
W. Taylor, N. O.	106	383	119	146	13	4	15	10	8	78	22	9
J. Anderson, Nash.	105	386	79	119	164	23	4	13	6	32	67	80
J. Anderson, Nash.	105	386	79	119	164	23	4	13	6	32	67	80
M. Daniel, L. R.-Mfs.	114	424	107	207	287	28	12	12	18	4	47	7
M. Daniel, L. R.-Mfs.	114	424	107	207	287	28	12	12	18	4	47	7
Hedford, N. O.	108	185	21	68	3	14	4	6	10	10	1	1
Hedford, N. O.	108	185	21	68	3	14	4	6	10	10	1	1
Barrow, A. L.	115	383	106	201	221	5	10	16	16	8	78	1
Barrow, A. L.	115	383	106	201	221	5	10	16	16	8	78	1
Pickering, Bham.	106	383	68	131	172	16	2	23	8	63	13	5
Pickering, Bham.	106	383	68	131	172	16	2	23	8	63	13	5
Yarns, Bham.	148	500	110	198	286	53	27	22	24	34	11	1
Yarns, Bham.	148	500	110	198	286	53	27	22	24	34	11	1
Jennings, N. O.	143	500	111	192	281	54	18	14	18	58	3	11
Jennings, N. O.	143	500	111	192	281	54	18	14	18	58	3	11
Koster, L. R.	137	422	80	160	236	23	32	36	17	32	40	8
Koster, L. R.	137	422	80	160	236	23	32	36	17	32	40	8
Detoro, N. O.	120	404	74	143	197	27	9	13	13	58	4	7
Detoro, N. O.	120	404	74	143	197	27	9	13	13	58	4	7
Blackney, N. O.	140	521	94	173	247	24	16	8	8	63	7	9
Blackney, N. O.	140	521	94	173	247	24	16	8	8	63	7	9
Carlyle, N. O.	108	202	35	75	82	17	4	4	4	36	4	1
Carlyle, N. O.	108	202	35	75	82	17	4	4	4	36	4	1
Vick, Mfs. Chait.	99	228	34	75	98	7	17	17	17	1	83	8
Vick, Mfs. Chait.	99	228	34	75	98	7	17	17	17	1	83	8
Rose, N. O.	154	474	100	200	302	41	11	13	16	12	1	83
Rose, N. O.	154	474	100	200	302	41	11	13	16	12	1	83
Carfer, Nash.	102	355	58	116	152	21	3	16	8	8	8	8
Carfer, Nash.	102	355	58	116	152	21	3	16	8	8	8	8
Appling, A. L.	157	616	128	211	357	34	22	13	21	50	9	12
Appling, A. L.	157	616	128	211	357	34	22	13	21	50	9	12
Houston, N. O.	157	616	128	211	357	34	22	13	21	50	9	12
Houston, N. O.	157	616	128	211	357	34	22	13	21	50	9	12
Harrington, N. O.	141	326	67	100	141	12	10	4	9	13	47	17
Harrington, N. O.	141	326	67	100	141	12	10	4	9	13	47	17
Marquard, Nash.	117	480	109	178	195	28	3	22	14	1	30	30
Marquard, Nash.	117	480	109	178	195	28	3	22	14	1	30	30
Matthews, Chait. L. R.	145	413	105	175	217	24	6	2	14	32	65	40
Matthews, Chait. L. R.	145	413	105	175	217	24	6	2	14	32	65	40

Continued from First Sport Page.

lost the ball, thus nullifying his own play. Tech gained eight yards outside the ends and lost two for a net gain of six yards out wide.

An approximately correct check of all plays, Tech gained eight yards outside the ends and lost two for a net gain of six yards out wide.

Both teams concentrated the attack at the line. And even a casual observer might have seen under what terrific difficulties Coach Will Anderson, of the Jackets, had been working all season.

The slow starting of the Tech backs was obvious. Time after time great, gaping holes opened by the line closed before the backs got there.

Still, the showing of the Jackets was highly encouraging. "Cherry Smash" Cherry, the Dixie Dynamo, showed all the earmarks of a real fullback. He will be heard from in 1931. And there were others. The 1931 Tech team should be appreciably stronger.

TIDE HOLDS GRID STAGE

Continued from First Sport Page.

DeLatt and, although held to a tie, the Blue Devils' record of eight victories, two ties and one defeat is the best ever made.

One of New Orleans, downed Detroit, 9 to 6, to finish the best season since Clark Shaugnessy became its gridiron director. The Louisiana players made more interceptions than any team in the country—seven—and won them all.

Little Western Maryland, which has not lost a game since 1928, pushed over a final quarter touchdown, after a 65-yard advance, to beat Maryland, 19 to 0, in their annual battle.

William and Mary beat Hampden-Sydney, 13 to 6. Western Kentucky downed Miami of Florida, 19 to 0, and Piedmont beat Rollins, 13 to 6.

Presbyterian, of South Carolina, claimed Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association honors with six victories within the circuit. Centre, with five wins, and Spring Hill with four, were close behind. Centenary and Loyola played but two association games and won both.

Devils, Tarheels May Meet Again

DURHAM, N. C., Dec. 7.—(AP)—The Durham Herald says a charity football game between Duke University and the University of North Carolina, to be played New Year's Day, is being suggested by alumni of both schools. Duke and North Carolina have played a scoreless tie in Chapel Hill yesterday.

Athletic authorities of the institutions have not given the matter attention, the paper says, although it has been brought before them.

MAWNN By Ed Dunforth

Continued from First Sport Page.

ball his boys gained a total of 149 yards from formation against 194 for the enemy.

ONE FOR THE BOOK.

Just before the game, per custom, Coach Alexander went in to see the officials to advise them of any peculiar formation (if any) his team might use so they would be prepared to check up.

"We have nothing unusual to watch today," Coach Alexander said with a grin, "but if my punter does not get 12 yards back of the line of scrimmage I wish you would tell him about it."

It is a matter of record that the only time "Buck" Flowers didn't stand as much as 12 yards back he had his punt half blocked. The young man is a slow punter but a wow if he has time to wind up his leg. His kicking was close to that of Chandler in effectiveness in spite of two very short boots.

WILL THEY NEVER LEARN?

Before Coach Alexander left for Los Angeles, he was asked as a favor to one and all to ask coast sports writers what they thought of Southern California by now.

Two days ago U. S. C. was "the greatest football team that ever had been developed in the history of the game." It was even better than Washington State, which team beat them. Coast sports experts can get that way.

Notre Dame's victory leaves the Micks in sole custody of the national title whether awarded by Professor Dickinson or Professor Einstein. If Alabama defeats Washington State the best the Tide can hope for is a recognized share of the honor. But it was worth the loss of a chance that Alabama would become the sole proprietor of the title to hear how the wonder team of all time was so thoroughly spanked.

It looks as if the coast folks would learn. But then perhaps they cannot ever hope to attain any notable heights of ratiocination.

CHAMPION IRISH DIESEL TAKES HEAD FOR HOME 'MATCH' OPEN

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Football's supreme laurels—permanent possession of a trophy signifying national intercollegiate champions three times in a decade—were bestowed on Knute Rockne's Irish warriors as they headed homeward late today.

Ownership of the Rissman trophy, bestowed for winning three national titles under the Dickinson rating system, was one of Notre Dame's chief spoils from her 27-to-0 rout of Southern California yesterday.

Late today Rockne herded his Ramblers toward their home fields. The trophies, subdued by their worst defeat since Coach Howard Jones took them in hand five years ago, heaped honors where honors were due. For themselves they sought forgetfulness by turning all eyes upon a banquet in their honor next Tuesday night.

The victory was credited to their masterful and perfectly timed work in every department.

TECH, GEORGIA GAME UNIQUE

Continued from First Sport Page.

lost the ball, thus nullifying his own play. Tech gained eight yards outside the ends and lost two for a net gain of six yards out wide.

An approximately correct check of all plays, Tech gained eight yards outside the ends and lost two for a net gain of six yards out wide.

Both teams concentrated the attack at the line. And even a casual observer might have seen under what terrific difficulties Coach Will Anderson, of the Jackets, had been working all season.

The slow starting of the Tech backs was obvious. Time after time great, gaping holes opened by the line closed before the backs got there.

Still, the showing of the Jackets was highly encouraging. "Cherry Smash" Cherry, the Dixie Dynamo, showed all the earmarks of a real fullback. He will be heard from in 1931. And there were others. The 1931 Tech team should be appreciably stronger.

TIDE HOLDS GRID STAGE

Continued from First Sport Page.

DeLatt and, although held to a tie, the Blue Devils' record of eight victories, two ties and one defeat is the best ever made.

One of New Orleans, downed Detroit, 9 to 6, to finish the best season since Clark Shaugnessy became its gridiron director. The Louisiana players made more interceptions than any team in the country—seven—and won them all.

Little Western Maryland, which has not lost a game since 1928, pushed over a final quarter touchdown, after a 65-yard advance, to beat Maryland, 19 to 0, in their annual battle.

William and Mary beat Hampden-Sydney, 13 to 6. Western Kentucky downed Miami of Florida, 19 to 0, and Piedmont beat Rollins, 13 to 6.

Presbyterian, of South Carolina, claimed Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association honors with six victories within the circuit. Centre, with five wins, and Spring Hill with four, were close behind. Centenary and Loyola played but two association games and won both.

Devils, Tarheels May Meet Again

DURHAM, N. C., Dec. 7.—(AP)—The Durham Herald says a charity football game between Duke University and the University of North Carolina, to be played New Year's Day, is being suggested by alumni of both schools. Duke and North Carolina have played a scoreless tie in Chapel Hill yesterday.

Athletic authorities of the institutions have not given the matter attention, the paper says, although it has been brought before them.

Y. C. A. A. COURT RACE GETS OFF TO GOOD START

Close Scores of Early Games Promise Real Competition.

Three eight-class basketball leagues for boys under the sponsorship of the Y. C. A. A. Association opened the 1935 season during the week just closed. Close scores in many games indicate hot battles for the titles.

For the coming week several of the first-night winners are scheduled to meet. The attendant trimming of teams with perfect records early almost promises that no team will survive the entire season undefeated.

In the girls' league, Peachtree Christian lost its second game of the year to Central Presbyterian in a mild upset. Pre-season dope made them a sure contender.

Monday night the teams of the Dixie league met on the "Y" court while Alpha class of Western Memorial defeated Central Presbyterian in the opener. What should be the best game of the series brings Anchor class and Clarkson Baptist together at 8 o'clock.

In the girls' league games on the Central Presbyterian court, the three first division teams meet those of the lower bracket. Central Presbyterian and Western Heights Baptist have maintained a perfect record through three series.

Top class, of the Baptist Tabernacle and the Vanguard class of Gordon Street Baptist, both victors in the past series, take the feature roles in the Sewanee league games slated for Wednesday night on the "Y" court.

Gordon Street Presbyterian and Oakhurst Presbyterian will open the Friday night series of the Georgia league, scheduled for Central Presbyterian court.

Next week's schedule:

DIXIE LEAGUE.
(At Y. M. C. A. Monday.)
Alpha Class vs. Decatur Presbyterian, 7:30 p. m.
Kirkwood Presbyterian vs. J. O. Y. Class, 7:30 p. m.
Peachtree Christian vs. Anchor Class, 8:30 p. m.
Clarkston Baptist vs. Covenant Presbyterian, 8:40 p. m.

CHESTER GIRLS' LEAGUE.
(At Central Presbyterian Tuesday.)
College Park Methodist vs. Central Presbyterian, 7:30 p. m.
Ponce de Leon Baptist vs. Peachtree Christian, 8:30 p. m.
Northwest Presbyterian vs. Western Heights Baptist, 8:30 p. m.
Associate Reform Presbyterian starts.

SEAWANEE LEAGUE.
(At Y. M. C. A. Wednesday.)
Boothman Class vs. J. O. Y. Class, 7:30 p. m.
Pep Class vs. Vanguard Class, 7:30 p. m.
Sewanee vs. Central Presbyterian, 8:30 p. m.
Ramoth Baptist Palmetto vs. Clifton Presbyterian, 8:40 p. m.

GEORGIA LEAGUE.
(At Central Presbyterian Friday.)
St. Philip's vs. Gordon St. Presbyterian, 7:30 p. m.
Oakhurst Presbyterian vs. Georgia Ave. Presbyterian, 7:30 p. m.
Central Presbyterian vs. Ft. McPherson, 8:30 p. m.
G. E. O. Class, Capitol Ave. Baptist vs. Woodward Ave. Baptist, 8:40 p. m.

The standings:

DIXIE LEAGUE. Won. Lost. Pct.
Alpha Class, Wesleyan Mem. 1 0 1.000
J. O. Y. Class, Cen. Bap. 1 0 1.000
Peachtree Christian 1 0 1.000
Anchor Class, Bap. E. 1 0 1.000
Kirkwood Presbyterian 1 0 1.000
Decatur Presbyterian 0 1 .000
Covenant Presbyterian 0 1 .000
Clarkston Baptist 0 1 .000

CHESTER GIRLS' LEAGUE. Won. Lost. Pct.
College Park Methodist 2 0 1.000
Western Heights Baptist 2 0 1.000
College Park Methodist 2 0 1.000
Ponce de Leon Baptist 1 2 .333
Peachtree Christian 1 2 .333
Decatur Presbyterian 0 3 .000

SEAWANEE LEAGUE. Won. Lost. Pct.
Boothman Class, Bap. Tab. 1 0 1.000
Clifton Presbyterian 1 0 1.000
Vanguard Class, Cen. Bap. 1 0 1.000
Sewanee Reform Presb. 1 0 1.000
Central Presbyterian 0 1 .000
Ramoth Baptist Memorial 0 1 .000
Oakhurst Presbyterian 0 1 .000

GEORGIA LEAGUE. Won. Lost. Pct.
Woodward Ave. Baptist 1 0 1.000
Central Presbyterian 1 0 1.000
Georgia Ave. Baptist 1 0 1.000
Gordon St. Presbyterian 1 0 1.000
St. Philip's 0 1 .000
Oakhurst Presbyterian 0 1 .000

Savannah Poloists Tie in Great Game

SAVANNAH, Ga., Dec. 7.—(AP)—In one of the best played polo games of the season, the red team of the 118th field artillery tied the white team at four goals each, this afternoon.

Nip and tuck at three goals each for five chukkers, the reds failed one goal in late sixth and lost chukker for what appeared to be a winning tally. Coleman, playing at No. 2 position and captain for the white team, scored the tying goal in the last 30 seconds of play for his team.

Invoke the Christmas Spirit with Decorative Lighting

ALL over America, in every city and town, Christmas homes are being decorated indoors and out with strings of color-lights. These joyous little lights turn joyous mood landscapes into a Christmas fairyland.

Plug your color-lights into your porch socket. Festoon with radiant colors your doorway, porches, trellises. Outline the windows, decorate trees and shrubbery in twinkling colors. Make yours the loveliest house of all these holiday nights.

Noma Color-Lights—which are for sale at all our stores—are small-sized 14 and 16 lamps, among the best you can buy in lamp quality. They come in outfits of 7, 8, 16, 20 and 50 or more color-lights to a string.

Get your Christmas lights early this year so no small hearts are disappointed!

GEORGIA POWER COMPANY

A CITIZEN WHEREVER WE SERVE

"A population of 500,000 by 1932" is Atlanta's slogan. Let's all pull together for a Greater Atlanta.

The Constitution's Weekly Business Review

EDITED BY M. D. GLEASON

There is hardly a need for a want that cannot be filled in Atlanta's stores and factories.

MATTRESS RENOVATING BUSINESS INCREASES

"The seasons in the mattress renovating business," says H. R. Simon, president of the Superior Mattress Company, of 835 Bankhead avenue, "are changing as the years go by, and December, that used to be our dulllest month, is now becoming a real busy time. We attribute this more than ever to the desire of the housewives in making everything look nice.

"In the renovating of a mattress, the customers must leave much to us, as they do not know how the cotton may be, and we have only one way to do all our work, do it right. This means that no matter who we may receive a mattress from, we do the work just as particular for one customer as another, and it is to this care that we attribute our steady growth in business. Our business was much better for November than a year ago, and December business so far, is away ahead of the corresponding period last year.

"For after all what is the most interesting room in the household if it is not the bedroom. The facts are well known that the average person spends one-third of his or her life in bed, and if the bed mattress is hard or lumpy, a person does not get the full benefit of sleep.

"There was a time when the making over of an old mattress was not done quite as well as it is now done, and the cost much higher; but modern machinery and the auto motor truck for quick pick-ups and deliveries has enabled us to do beautiful work at such low costs that anyone can have old mattresses renovated.

In the matter of service and new covering, W. O. Meaders, the secretary, keeps right up with the customers' needs, seeing that they can have one-day service, or a mattress received before 9 o'clock in the morning can be returned by 6 o'clock in the evening. He will submit a great number of the very latest as well as the old standard patterns in bed tickings to the customer to select from and when the fine new covering is put on, the regimined and soft-cleaned cotton, an uncomfortable bed is turned into a very comfortable bed.

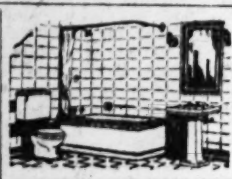

"Cotton growers in this section of the country, who for sentimental or economical reasons wish to have a mattress made from their cotton, may bring in forty-five pounds and the company will make a new mattress at the same low price as they will renovate one. A mattress made in this way would be a fine Christmas or birthday present, that the farmer's wife would be pleased to receive."

SAVE
33 1/3%
FUEL

COAL : OIL : GAS

WHATEVER THE FUEL YOU USE WILL COST LESS WHEN YOU INSTALL NU-METAL WEATHER STRIPS.

Call CALHOUN 1483
ATLANTA TENT & AWNING CO.
East Point, Ga.

Pickert's Service

If your plumbing supplies were originally purchased from us, 49 times out of 50 we can supply repair parts from stock.

Pickert Plumbing Supply Co.

Wholesale and Retail

107-109 Central Avenue, S. W. Walnut 8169

Service & Certainty—Ask Our Customers
JACKSON 4437
BOHLER & SHACKLEFORD, Inc.
COMPLETE AUTOMOBILE SERVICE

21-23 BAKER ST., N. W.
OPEN DAY AND NIGHT

JESSIE M. BOHLER T. A. (SHACK) SHACKLEFORD

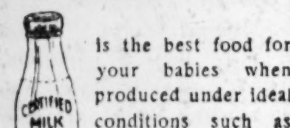

It is Our Pleasure to Serve You the Best of Well Cooked Foods at Your Convenience

We especially invite the ladies and all visitors to Atlanta to get a big hot meal for a small cost, or a tasty sandwich FROM 6 A. M. TO 12 MIDNIGHT. We have always been famous for our hot and cold drinks.

THE REX LUNCH ROOM

GRAND THEATRE BUILDING R. L. YORK, PROP.

Certified Milk

Is the best food for your babies when produced under ideal conditions such as ours.

W. O. Pierce's Dairy
4015 Peachtree Road
Office Phone Cherokee 2213

The Monarch Interlocking Self-Adjusting Weatherstrip

Save 5¢ of your fuel bill each season. Eliminates cold drafts and keeps dust and dirt out of your car. Guaranteed for Life of Building.

R. M. Callaway & Son Co.

1177 W. Peachtree St., N. E. HE. 0047

WE HAVE MOVED TO 19 PRYOR ST., N. E.

Where we have five floors to display the most complete line of office furniture to be seen in the southeast. Brown-Morse steel filing cabinets, desks and tables, Melburn fireproof safes, Hargreaves Co. steel shelving, Stone-Davis prefabricated furniture, Grand Rapids period furniture, McLeod Desk Co. desks and numerous other good lines.

May we invite all new and old friends to come by and see us?

HORNE DESK & FIXTURE CO.

19 PRYOR ST., N. E.

AUSTIN BROS. BRIDGE CO.

STRUCTURAL STEEL

FOR ALL PURPOSES

Reinforcing Rods—Bridges

Atlanta, Ga.

Telephone WE 2200

Offices and Plant Opposite Ft. McPherson

PAY YOUR TAXES

Do You Need Help?

THE INTERSTATE BOND CO. OF ATLANTA

Assists taxpayers by financing the payment of your city, state and county taxes. Easy and convenient plan. No personal solicitors required. Special terms on items over $500.00.

Head Office

501 RHODES-HAVERTY BLDG., ATLANTA, GA.

Correspondents at numerous points in Georgia

Burford, Hall & Smith

American Elevator Service

INSPECTION—REPAIRS

NEW EQUIPMENT

Phone WALnut 8890

Red Rock Bldg. Atlanta, Ga.

Phonics JA. 2100-2540

NATIONAL WINDOW CLEANING CO., Inc.

INTERIOR AND EXTERIOR PAINTING

Wall Tinting and Wall Paper Cleaned

Plaster Cleaned, Stucco and Waxed

OFFICE: 181, IVY ST., ATLANTA, GA.

TOYS—DOLLS—WHEEL GOODS—NOVELTIES—GIFT GOODS—FIREWORKS

The Largest Display in the South.

Complete Stocks in Atlanta.

Wholesale Only

C. E. ALLEN & CO.—Atlanta

Near Terminal Station 234 Mitchell St., S. W.

ENVELOPE OCCUPIES IMPORTANT POSITION

An authority on the preparation of business letters recently made the statement that there were ten things in the make up of a letter which are of major importance, and which may either be good or bad—and the first of these, ranked in order of importance, is the envelope.

Proceeding on the theory that good envelopes are good business, the Atlanta Envelope Company, on Stewart avenue, has during the past year made rapid strides in educating the business community in this territory toward a more effective use of envelopes.

Working as it does, direct with the user, the Atlanta Envelope Company has an opportunity to render an unusual type of service to its customers.

To attract corner cards are offered in the case of envelopes for advertising matter, attention-getting illustrations are developed. Selection of paper stock is made with the special use of the envelope in mind. All these are details which are too often overlooked by envelope users in the rush of getting their requirements filled, unless the manufacturer takes a personal interest in making up the order, states T. Guthrie, president of the Atlanta Envelope Company.

To care for its increasing volume and to be able to offer its customers a more complete service in manufacture, the Atlanta Envelope Company recently installed a special machine for making open end and catalog envelopes—a machine which has a capacity of 10,000 envelopes an hour and which makes the envelope and prints the corner card in one operation.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON AWAITING FINAL REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 7.—(P)—Trading in cotton has been dominated from start to finish during the past week by the approaching government report which will give the final estimate of the crop of 1930 and will be the bureau's last word as to the crop now being marketed until the census bureau issues its March report showing the actual total of cotton ginned of 1930 production.

Although the general belief of the trade here is that a crop to be estimated by the bureau not greater than the forecast of November 8, government reports are always attended with some uncertainty, hence prudent traders generally liquidate or even up commitments in advance of an important report such as that due Monday. As a result, the market has eased off slowly during the week under the pressure of long liquidation although the market has been at times supported by the covering of cautious shorts.

Despite the downward trend of values both the highs and lows of the week were established on Tuesday when the market advanced rather sharply after an early decline on Monday due to an improvement in the stock market. From the high established on that day, namely 10.65 for January, prices gradually eased off again although the close on Saturday showed a small net loss of 12 to 14 points for the week. Tuesday's lows were not again duplicated.

The crop of prices estimates issued during the week showed such a wide divergence of views that even the average of these reports can scarcely be any sort of a guide to what the government's estimate will be. At any rate traders are taking no chances and they have reduced their commitments accordingly.

The market received some support during the week from trade buying on the scale down but this was mostly offset by heavy selling.

The following shows the high, low and closing sales in the New Orleans futures market during the past week compared with a year ago:

	High	Low	Close	Year
Dec.	10.56	10.30	10.25	17.17
Jan.	10.85	10.50	10.44	17.25
Mar.	10.90	10.60	10.71	17.25
May	11.14	10.84	10.95	17.83
July	11.30	11.04	11.16	17.95

WE ARE GIVING A NEW TUBE FREE WITH EVERY BRUNSWICK TIRE WE SELL

These Brunswick Tires are guaranteed for 16,000 miles. These Brunswick tires are the best in the world and are the tire for the keen buyer who wants big values for little money. This is a good season for tire chains. We have them in sizes for light cars or heavy trucks. If you buy any kind of auto accessories from us one time you will buy more in the future.

We buy heavily in all automobile supplies and save you money on all you buy from us. Buy at our store that is most convenient to you.

Golden Eagle Co.

741 MARIETTA STREET 245 PETERS STREET

BROADWAY AT POPLAR, MACON MARKET & WALL STS., CARTERSVILLE

24 SOUTH BRADFORD ST., GAINESVILLE

DRINK MORE NATURAL SWEET MILK

Doctors for ages have been recommending pure wholesome sweet milk as it comes from the cow, as nature's food that is best for babies, invalids and well folks.

Every member of our league guarantees his milk is produced in the cleanest way it is possible and delivered to his customers within a few hours after it is milked.

THE GEORGIA PURE MILK LEAGUE

Meets First Thursday Each Month 901 Fulton Court House

C. J. ROSS, President. C. C. TUGGLE, Vice President. H. A. BROWN, Secretary.

W. J. BROWN, Treasurer. J. W. STAMP, BOARD OF DIRECTORS. A. S. VANCE, L. A. JAMES, J. P. G. W. ABERNETHY, S. L. WALKER, GEORGE STANLEY

Rex No. 5 Saw Rig

Has all these features: (1) Tilting table. (2) Straight line cut-off. (3) Cut-under frame. (4) Top or right H. P. motor. (5) Engine on right table. (6) Radiator equipped. (7) Portability. (8) Twenty-eight inches wide.

YANCEY BROS., Inc.

Telephone MAin 3964—634 Whitehall St., S. W.

"Caterpillar" Tractors—Road Building Machinery Contractors' Equipment

MACHINERY HOUSE ADDS DEPARTMENT

That Georgia and the southeast is growing industrially is again evidenced by the fact that, in order to meet a constantly increasing demand, the American Machinery Company, 122-124 Forsyth street, S. W., Atlanta, announces the addition of a new department. This new department will include a complete line of small, portable, motor-driven woodworking machines for home workshops, cabinet shops, auto top and body repair shops and furniture repair shops, as well as medium and heavy duty machines for regular factory and plant use, contractors and industrial equipment and supplies, electric motors and a varied line of portable electric tools.

In order to intelligently and expertly serve this enlarged field, this new department has been placed in charge of A. R. Lord, probably one of the best informed and most widely acquainted machinery and industrial equipment men in this section.

"In years past," said Mr. Lord, "it has been a recognized fact by all the manufacturers of woodworking equipment, that the south has literally been a dumping ground for low grade and often junk equipment. The situation is rapidly changing, however, and manufacturers of the south are fast learning that to meet present conditions they must be equipped equally with the demands for strictly up-to-date improved machinery to replace the out-of-date high operating cost machines now in use in thousands of plants. We anticipate that the next five years will show tremendous changes in this regard and it is to take care of our customers and to serve them that we have inaugurated this new department."

R. L. York, proprietor of the Rex Lunch room in the Grand Theater building, announces that he has secured the services of W. H. Bell, who has been serving the people of Atlanta for the past 18 years, dividing that time between the Atlanta Athletic Club and the Terminal station lunch room.

Meals are served by neatly uniformed waitresses at the Rex. The new lunch room is open Monday and Tuesday will consist of turkey and oyster dressing, Long Island duck and dressing, spring chicken, Maryland style, pork cutlets with apple sauce. In addition to coffee, hot chocolate, tea and milk, the full variety of cold drinks, including draught and near-beer is served daily.

Mr. Bell is putting that snappy service and tasty foods before the patrons of the Rex, for which he was famous while assistant manager of the Atlanta Athletic Club, and has a splendid chef to supervise the daily menu.

The early and late hours the Rex serves hot meals make it very convenient for those who wish an early morning breakfast or the tired, weary auto traveler who likes a warm meal after a long, cold drive.

Since it has been repaired and the new lunch equipment installed, it presents one of the classiest appearances of any place in town, and due to the close proximity of this up-to-date lunchroom to the downtown hotels, and department stores and theaters, it is a most convenient place for all those who wish a small bite of a full meal at very reasonable prices.

DEMOREST MAN FALLS INTO 70-FOOT WELL

ATHENS, Ga., Dec. 7.—(P)—Police reported Saturday that T. N. Bramblett, 37, of Demorest, was in a serious condition in a hospital here after jumping into a 70-foot well Friday. Police said no reason for his alleged act was known.

GOLDEN EAGLE GIVES TUBE WITH EACH TIRE

"In appreciation of the splendid trade our customers have been giving us on Brunswick tires," says Hugh Fischer, manager of the Golden Eagle Company, "we are now giving our customers a brand-new tube with every tire bought from us, until further notice. This is in line with our custom for the past 34 years, since we have been serving the people of this part of the country of letting them share in our success.

"We will go a long way to show our appreciation to our customers, and the same offer we make in Atlanta applies to our customers in Decatur, Macon, Gainesville and Cartersville.

"A fact we would like to make plain about our Brunswick tires," further stated Mr. Fischer, "is that they are guaranteed for 16,000 miles, and their general appearance represents the last word in modern tire construction. An order for one means that the car owner buys three more when he needs more tires.

ENVELOPE HEADQUARTERS

EVERY size and type of commercial envelope is made here—made of the correct paper stock, with corners that fit and flaps that stick. Speedy service, too. I'll pay you to make this your "Envelope Headquarters."

"Good Envelopes Are Just Good Business"

ATLANTA ENVELOPE CO.

505-7-11 Stewart Ave., S. W. ATLANTA

PHONE MAIN 3570

W. H. BELL CONNECTS WITH REX LUNCHROOM

R. L. York, proprietor of the Rex Lunch room in the Grand Theater building, announces that he has secured the services of W. H. Bell, who has been serving the people of Atlanta for the past 18 years, dividing that time between the Atlanta Athletic Club and the Terminal station lunch room.

Meals are served by neatly uniformed waitresses at the Rex. The new lunch room is open Monday and Tuesday will consist of turkey and oyster dressing, Long Island duck and dressing, spring chicken, Maryland style, pork cutlets with apple sauce. In addition to coffee, hot chocolate, tea and milk, the full variety of cold drinks, including draught and near-beer is served daily.

Mr. Bell is putting that snappy service and tasty foods before the patrons of the Rex, for which he was famous while assistant manager of the Atlanta Athletic Club, and has a splendid chef to supervise the daily menu.

The early and late hours the Rex serves hot meals make it very convenient for those who wish an early morning breakfast or the tired, weary auto traveler who likes a warm meal after a long, cold drive.

Since it has been repaired and the new lunch equipment installed, it presents one of the classiest appearances of any place in town, and due to the close proximity of this up-to-date lunchroom to the downtown hotels, and department stores and theaters, it is a most convenient place for all those who wish a small bite of a full meal at very reasonable prices.

YOUR Old Shoes

They Are Comfortable because you have molded them to fit your feet.

NOW--

All your shoes need is rebuilding (repairing) to look new again.

BUT

Be sure you bring them to factory trained shoe rebuilders at

SUTTON'S

11 Edgewood Ave. JA. 4268

Abused Feet

Age Fast

Be careful with your feet—give 'em comfortable shoes to walk in. Bring them to us for rebuilding (repairing).

Quick Service Shoe Shop

124 1/2 Ala. St. Phone MA. 2738 Under Jacob's Drug Store

CHRISTMAS WALLPAPER

Brighten mother's room with wall paper for Christmas.

Our stock is brimming full of bright cheery patterns, at unusually low prices. Call our new phone, MAIN 7114, today for free estimate.

J. L. Burnett & Co.

Wallpaper Service Since 1861 177 Whitehall St. MAIn 7114

"Better Be Safe Than Sorry"

FIREWORKS COMPANY MAKES BIG SHIPMENTS

As the glad Christmas time is drawing near, the small boy and many grown-ups, too, are looking forward to giving expressions of joy through shooting their favorite kind of fireworks; and the Georgia Fireworks Company, headed by C. E. Allen, is making large shipments of fireworks to the merchants all over the south-east.

Mr. Allen, who has been buying and distributing the National Fireworks products for over thirty-three years in the Atlanta territory, says that they have anticipated an extra large business this year, and have laid in all the old standard fireworks and some interesting new novelties.

He further says, as the Christmas shoppers are buying their early presents, it will be well for all those who wish to make a little extra money in the sale of fireworks this year to get their supplies right away, and get the full benefit of the season.

In their other lines of toys and dolls, the C. E. Allen Company is now in the very midst of heavy shipping, and merchandise is leaving their large shipping rooms at almost all hours, by all means of transportation. Mr. Allen took advantage of the manufacturers' and importers' generous offers last spring and stocked heavily with the best toys of a worldwide selection, and this has enabled him to pass on the best in toys and novelties to many hundreds of southern retail customers.

In the toys, wheel goods and novelties, they have many lines that they can still give full shipments in; but, no matter how much they may have this winter, it would be advisable for every merchant that wants to tune up his store or stock with attractive new to s, that not only will bring a profit themselves but act as good trade pullers for the other lines of business carried by that store, to make their selections as early as possible.

C. E. Allen Company and the Georgia Fireworks Company are under the same management, and are located at 234 Mitchell street, S. W.

Yes I'm a Rentaller

You know: one of Lipscomb-Weyman-Chapman apartment specialist—that's a rentaller. Leave it to a "rentaller" to assist you in selecting a comfortable apartment and then

Christmas will be an event

The following list of apartments on Boulevard and Parkway Drive are truly unusual bargains. The management is excellent.

Heat and Water Furnished

588 Boulevard, 3 rooms and sleeping porch. $35 and $40.

543 Boulevard, 4 and 5 rooms. $40 and $45.

678 Boulevard, 4 rooms. $47.50 and $50.

598 Parkway Drive, 4 rooms. $45.

479 Parkway Drive, 4 rooms. $40.

423 Boulevard, 3-4 rooms. $35 to $40.

Lipscomb-Weyman-Chapman Co.

58 Marietta St., N. W. WA. 2162

"Where Service and Values Are Paramount"

NOW AT YOUR GROCER'S

COLONIAL FRUIT CAKE

If you want a really GOOD Fruit Cake ask for COLONIAL. It's supremely rich—made and mellowed the old-fashioned way. Liberally filled with choice fruits and nuts.

LEE BAKING CO.

A. B. LEE, Pres.

Knight-Luttrell Iron Company

Incorporated Scrap Iron, Metals and Rubber

972 Avon Ave., S. W. Atlanta, Ga. Telephone WE. 0200

Electric & Oxy-Acetylene Welding Automobile Radiators & Fenders Most Complete Welding Works Nothing too large or too small

BIRD-POTTS COMPANY, INC.

"WELDING EXPERTS" 370-73 Marietta St. S. Pryor at A. & W. E. St.

